Reaching for the Top

Starting the Year Early

Heading for the Top . . .

Wednesday, August 26th. We all wondered what that first day of school would bring. No matter what our expectations, we all knew that "This would be the best ever!" We were reaching for the top, whether the top meant passing all our classes or getting prestige in our district.

We actually started on August 24th with registration. Once again, there was a new way to do it. If we didn't like what the computer gave us, and most of us didn't, we got to go through the hassles of college-style registration. Not only had that changed, but new faces and new questions were prevalent. Some of the new questions were: "Do you live north or south of Jackson?", "Are you going to buy your pictures?" and "Do you want to buy an annual?" After all of that, you were finished. Class pictures for the annual were taken at this time. The seniors got to skip that stop since they had theirs taken over the summer.

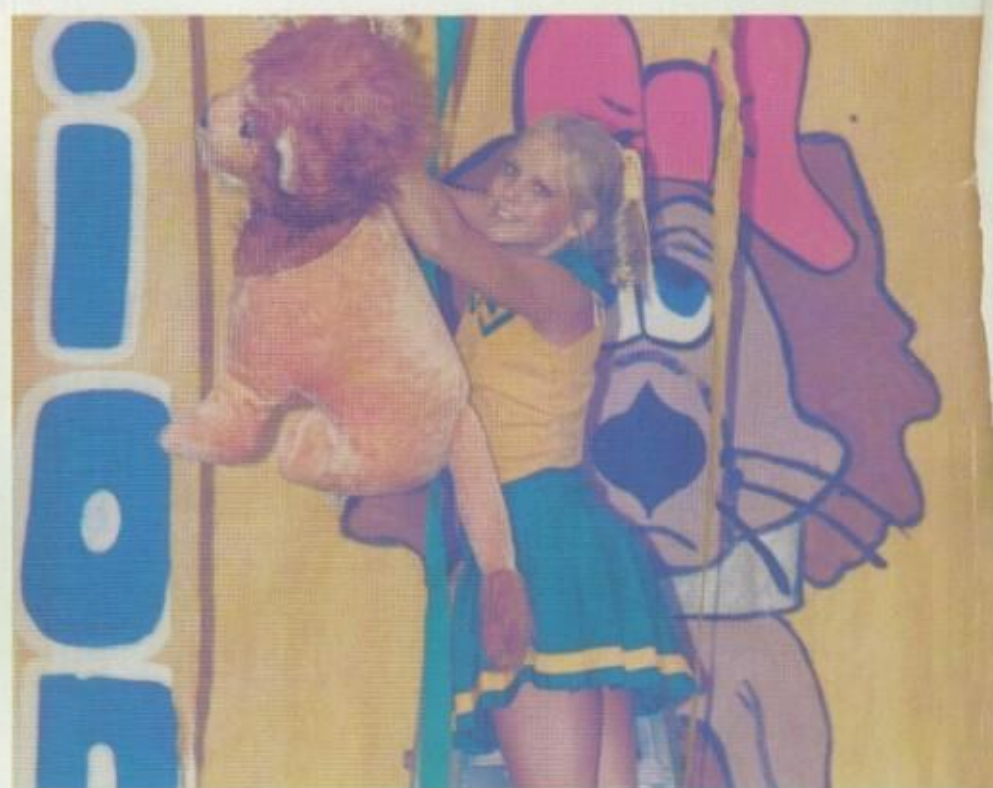

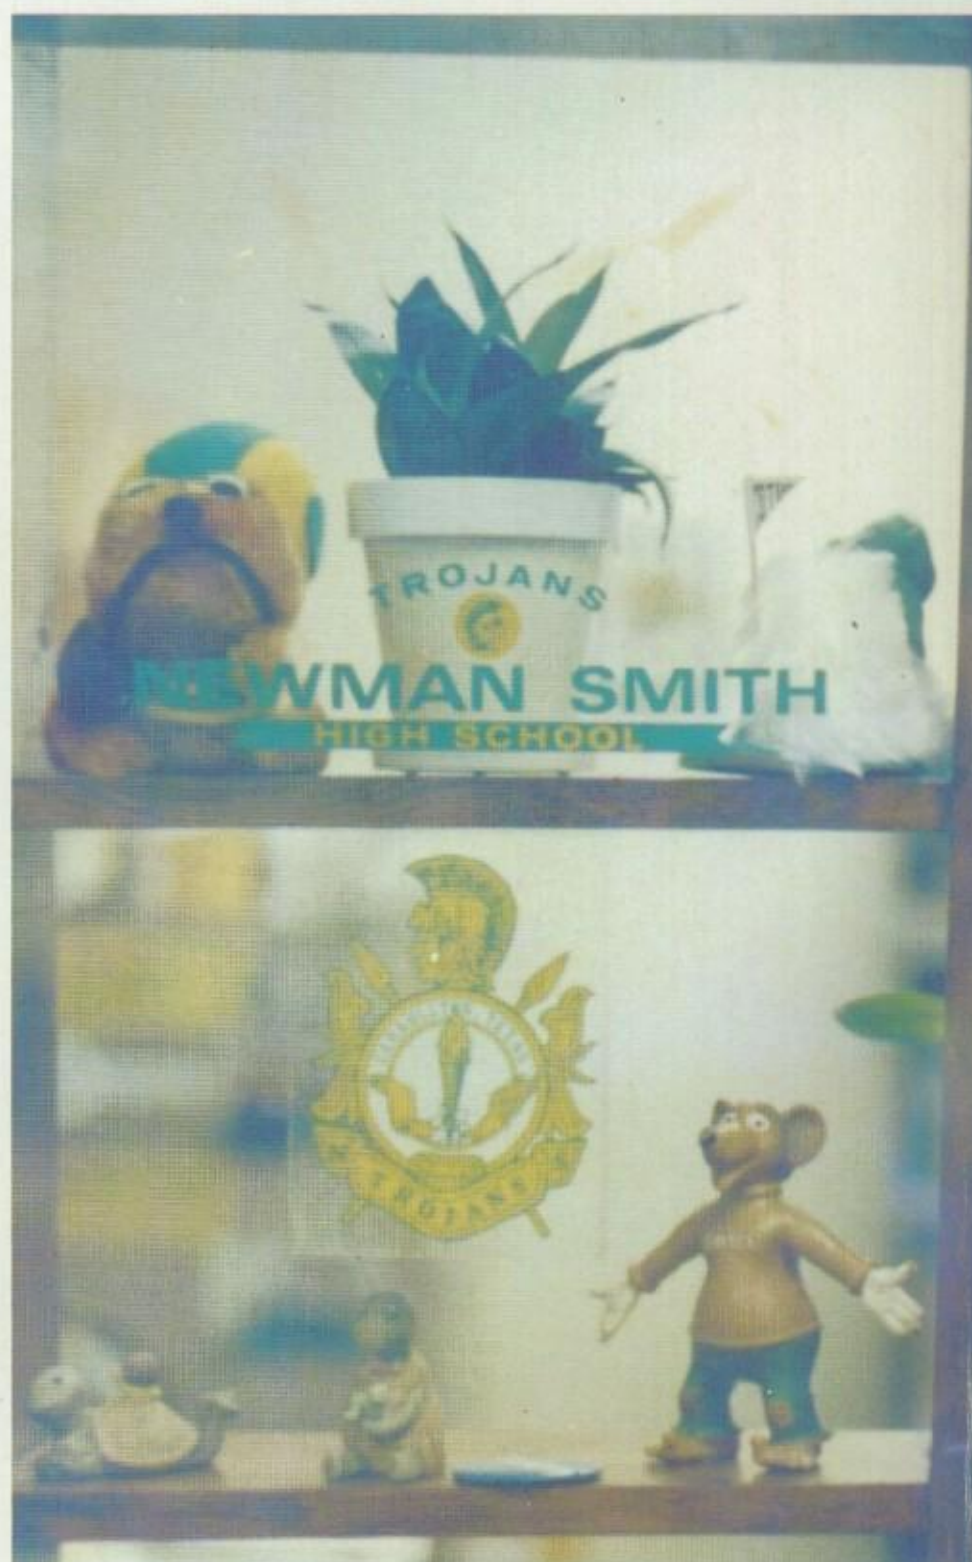

Although the band, drill team, and football players had been practicing for almost a full month, getting back into the daily routine of school was arduous. We found that all 1,950 students had to be crammed into three lunch periods. The first Friday, we learned that pep rallies would be sixth period. That meant that most seniors would be unable to attend. Underclassmen were also dismissed at 2:45 P.M.! As a result, pep rallies were almost empty. However, we started the year with a win over Waxahachie. Our best pep rally and game resulted in a win over R. L. Turner. We had reached the top in Carrollton-Farmers Branch and planned to stay there.

Another goal we had to reach for was grades. Passing had been changed to seventy and most teachers were determined to make us work for our grades. In-class assemblies had been cut to almost none. One paid assembly, that had been planned a year in advance, was allowed. Conduct grades were changed to U, N, S, and E. This thoroughly confused both students and teachers.

Racing through seasons' moods

Final phase becomes reality

As the days rolled into weeks, Homecoming arrived. The halftime show was moving smoothly until Lake Highlands football players decided to run across the back of the field. Not long after Homecoming, tickets to the five hour Rolling Stones Halloween concert went on sale.

Mid-November had brought another new site. More construction had begun to try to finish final phases of our school. The field house was started next to the baseball field with a formal walkway to the gym. Thanksgiving and Christmas seemed to just sneak up on us. The lack of school spirit was one reason that there was no Christmas dance. Instead, we spent time at parties and shopping at Prestonwood, Valley View, or possibly Sakowitz.

As we got back to work after the Christmas holidays, we all dreaded exams which we only had one week for preparation. Mother Nature was on our side though. We missed two days of school due to icy road conditions during exam week. Therefore, exams were moved to the beginning of the next week. The semester ended and we were all able to reflect on the past four months and to set goals to be reached in the coming four months.

STUDENT LIFE

It all started Tuesday. Our Homecoming week was delayed a day to allow our break for the State Fair on Monday. Our spirit and pride slowly kindled until it reached its peak on the field, Friday.

Seniors "Come Home"

Parade Floats On

Tuesday started it all off. Unique hats brought a glimmer of spirit, while the Seniors' "legs" contest stumbled with lack of student support. All in all, the day lost some of its pizzazz with the deluge of rain we received throughout the day. Our thoughts turned to the safety of our cars on the wet roads or anything to do with water.

Wednesday carried out Tuesday's pessimism at the start. The Juniors' "3-legged" race fell through with only one team showing. Socks stuck out, as the day's theme got afoot with wide student support. Optimism of victory heightened with the sight of sunshine rainbowing through the clouds.

Thursday the most successful class sponsored Homecoming activity occurred. The Sophomores' "tug-of-war" pulled the student body into "friendly" competition as the Sophomores and Juniors stomped over the Freshmen and Seniors. In the end, however, the Sophomores were victorious over the mighty Juniors. The theme for Thursday was tacky ties and tacky they were. On few occasions were there any ties seen that actually matched the clothes. Spirit was building and we were ready, willing and hopefully able to meet the Wildcats, even at the possibility of rain in the forecast.

Friday was "the" day. Our spirit was at its ultimate high. Visions of victory were everywhere, even through the off and on rain showers. Those, however, didn't stop our first all-school Homecoming parade. Our spirit didn't fail, even through the loss to Lake Highlands. Nevertheless, we left the field with the feeling we had accomplished a small victory.

Loses Time and Minds

The price of our sanity reached an all time high as we raced to the nearest pinball arcade like Tilt, or Castle Games. For a mere quarter (sometimes two) we were flung into our inner fantasies. Whether we wished to bring peace to our section of the universe, safely crossing a road and stream, or just ringing up points on a pinball machine, we somehow relieved our frustrations of family, work, and school.

Spooks Get "Stoned" Out

Mick Makes the Sun Shine

Surprises made up most of our Halloween weekend. We were excited with all the characters displayed in the 1st Pumpkin Decorating Contest. "Frankenstein" and "Mick Jagger" were strong, but "Cinderella's Coach at Midnight" ran away with the winning trophy.

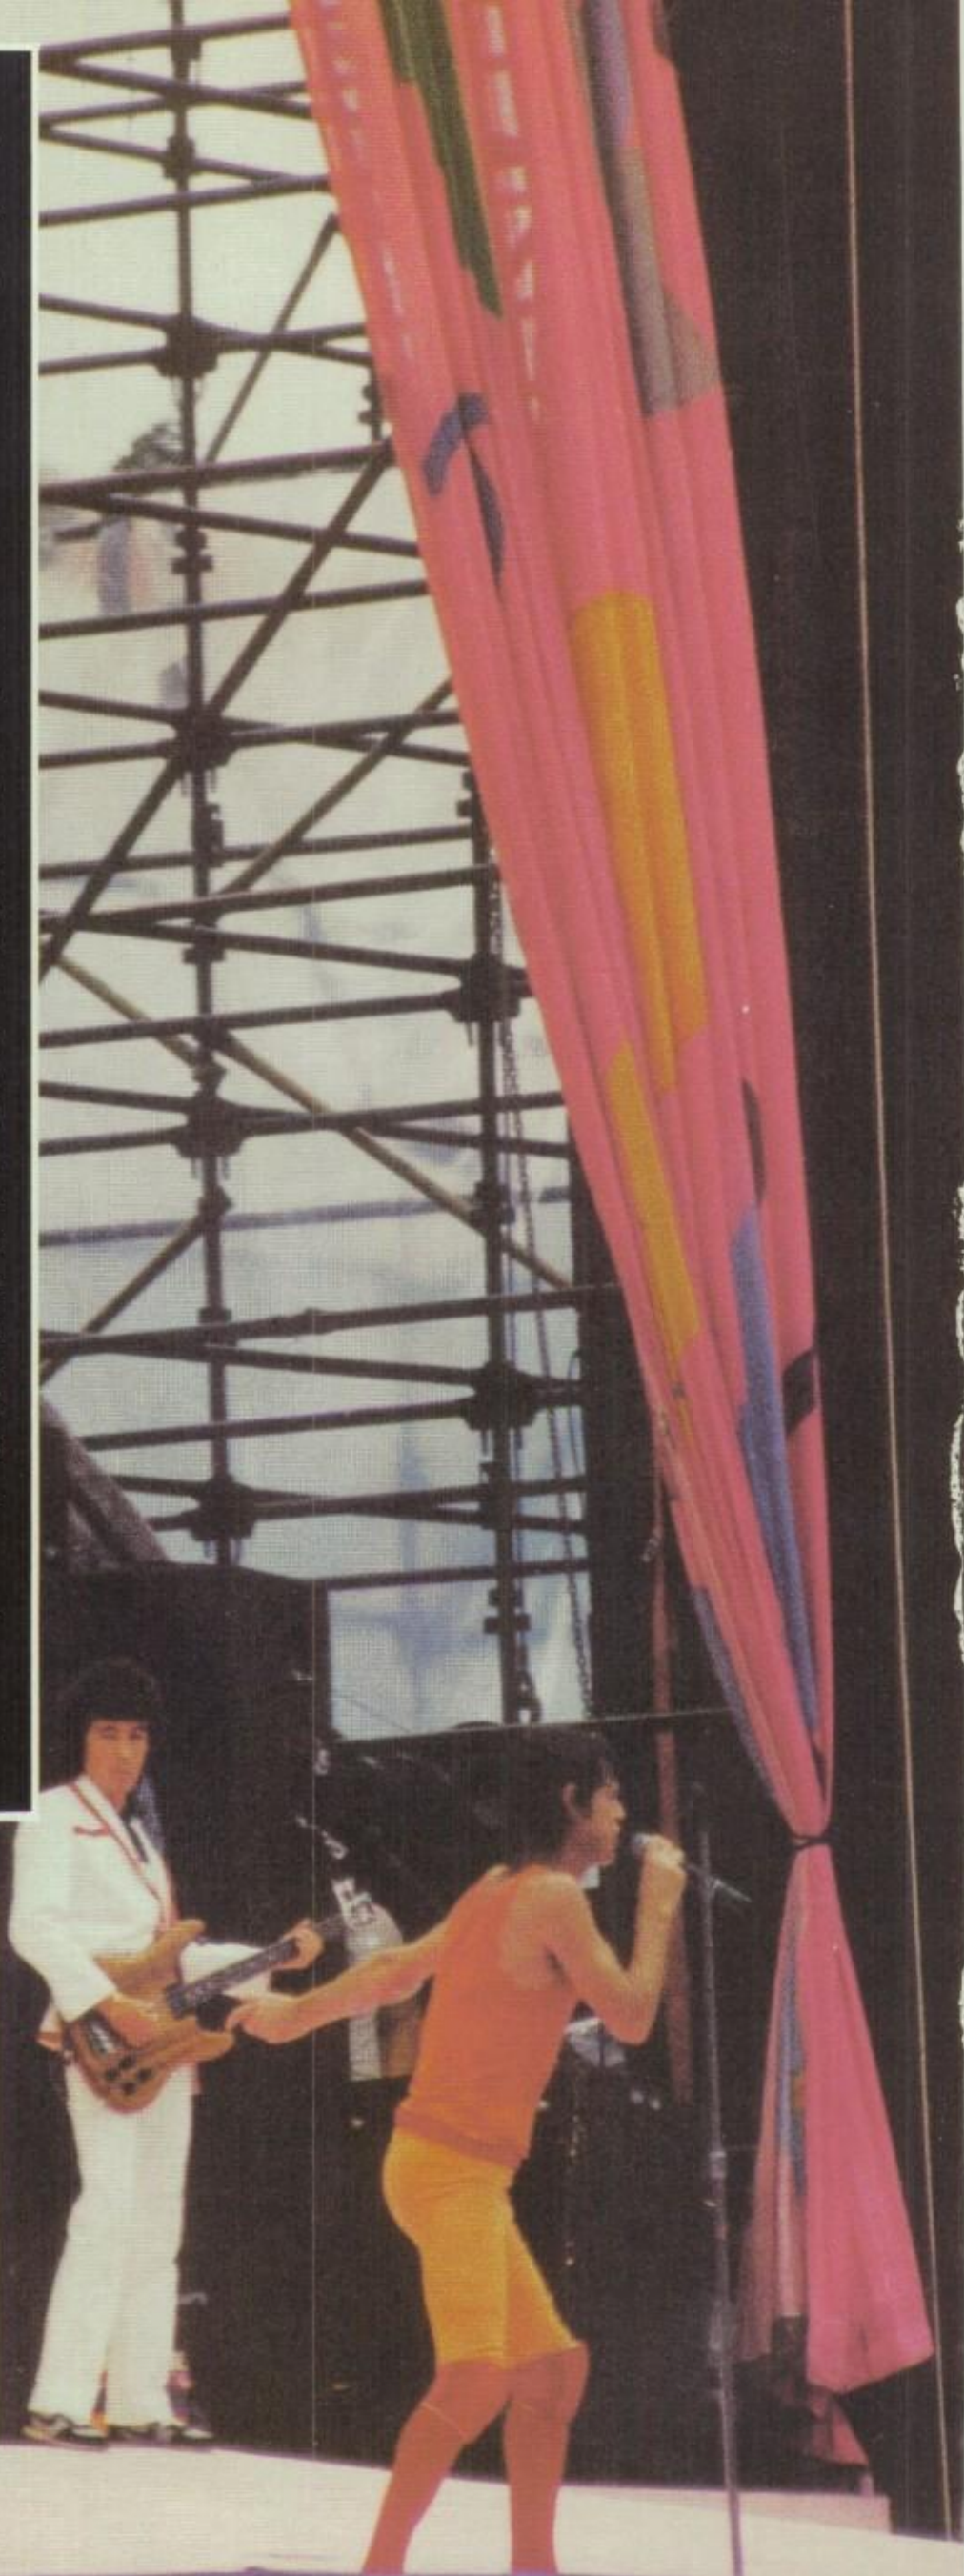

The spirits of Halloween came out of the grave and into our presences during our Pearce pep rally. The cheerleaders were arrayed in monstrous and horrifying costumes. While they gave us a scare, the Troyanns gave us a laugh in their "cute" clown fashions. Our spirits were not raised enough to defeat Pearce, but many were ready for the big events — two concerts by the Rolling Stones.

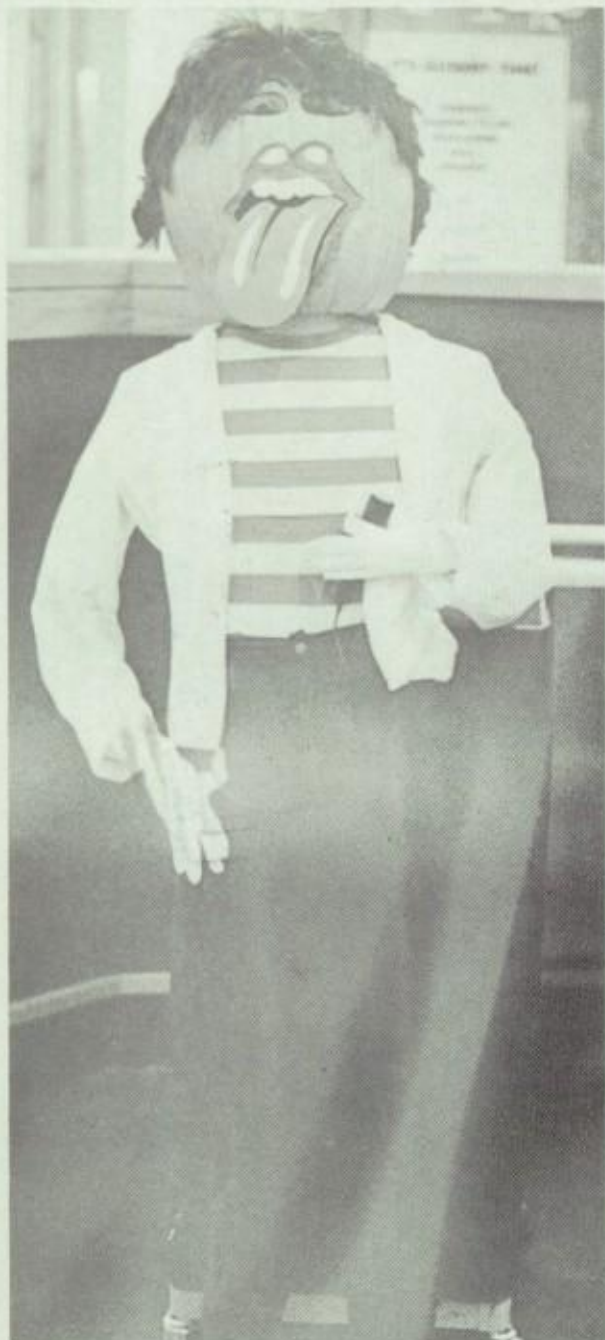

The Stones, on their last rumored U.S. Tour, added many surprises. Many were in a state of shock when the Stones asked everybody to wear their costumes to the concert. This was to be an unusual concert. The "show" was supposedly momentous. This was hard to understand with the opening act of the "Fabulous" Thunderbirds. ZZTop woke us up with some good 'ol Texas rock, but we didn't really rock until Mick -n- Co. came out on stage. As he started to get into the beat, the rain came pouring over the 80,000 people in attendance. The downpour continued through the show, but it didn't discourage the crowd from becoming ecstatic at the sights and sounds of Mick Jagger.

Sunday's performance was just as spectacular without the rain, but we had an eerie feeling afterwards. It was as if when the Stones left, they took a large portion of our souls with them.

Day of Decisions Approached

Career Day Lessens Pressures

Career Day — a day of decisions for Juniors and Seniors — went off with few hitches. The day started — for Seniors — with a "Town Hall" assembly in the theatre. There, five area businessmen and women talked to us about organizing a business, internal politics, and job requirements for specific fields.

2nd period, Juniors joined the bandwagon by attending sessions — according to our special Career Day schedule — instructed by area merchants, businessmen and artists. The scheduled speakers offered us a wide view of the opportunities available after high school.

A former actor from The Edge Of Night talked to those of us interested in the dramatic arts, while Dick Johnson and his Channel 4 team informed us about the broadcasting field along with recording our event. Guests also included Journalists, Bankers, Teachers, Psychologists, Chefs, and Lawyers.

Along with going to sessions, we viewed exhibits and booths in the girls' gym. One of the most popular, was the McDonald's, where free calendars with coupons were handed out.

Attending our Career Day classes took the place of our regular 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th periods. After 5th, we were supposed to go to our regular 6th period class, but since it was the last period, and Friday, and the last day before Spring Break, well... many of us found ourselves on the unexcused list the Monday we returned.

"Punk" Hits the Scene

Rock Survives Changes

Music seemed to go through some obvious changes.

Among the changes were some of the new groups that surfaced, like the Go-Gos, Quarterflash, and Joan Jett and the Blackhearts. These groups are known for their female vocalists and are examples of some of the groups that have been dubbed as "punk."

Many were seen "punking out." This form of dress took on a variety of shapes such as headbands, metallics, army clothes or just about anything that was not quite the norm.

Even though punk was very popular, rock-n-roll still lived on. The massive crowds that attended the concerts were a testimonial to this fact. Some of the biggest concerts of the year were Journey, the Rolling Stones, Foreigner, AC-DC and Rush.

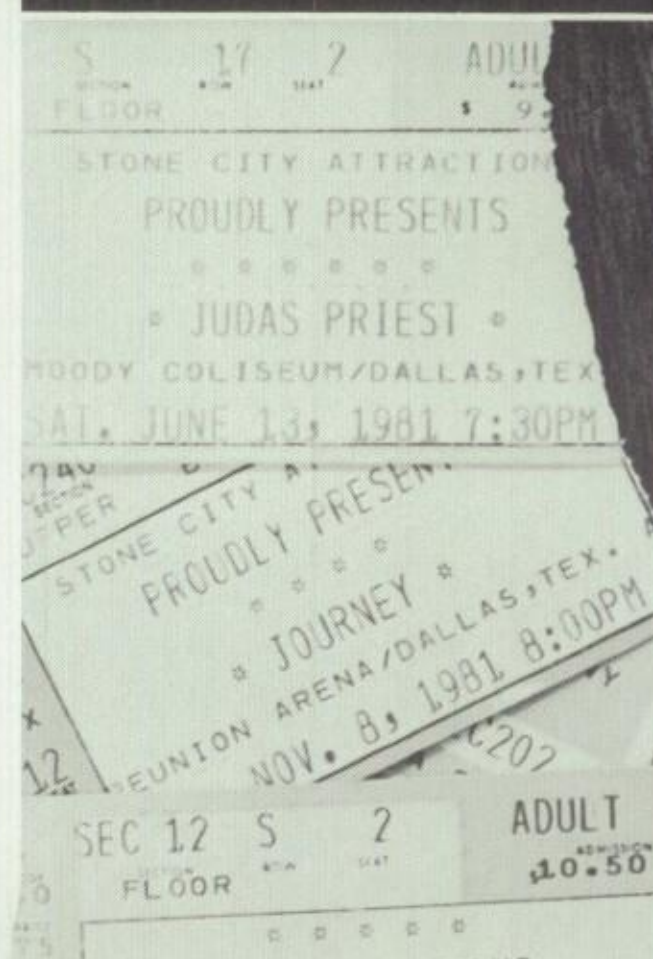

A rocker was characterized by his variety of concert T-shirts that he wore to school the day after the show to say, "Hey, I was there!" He was most often found listening to Q102 or the "Zoo," and sometimes listening to KEG's demented "Dr. Demento."

After School Changes Lives

Summer Love And Laughter

After school, a new world unfolds with the help of a calm spring breeze. Flowing through our small town, the scents of budding flowers and the sights of tranquil birds make our thoughts of schoolwork and its problems soon disappear in exchange for thoughts of love and laughter.

Loneliness is not felt away from our schoolfriends. The time we spend enveloped in nature causes us to examine our friendships or just marvel at all nature's beauty. When we are with our closest friends, however, we strengthen our love and prove we are not alone.

There is always something we could do with those we care about. A friendly game of frisbee, football, or baseball could always skin our knees (and sometimes — hopefully not often — our friendships).

If we wanted to get out of our small town, a trip to the lake would offer some change of scenery.

Even though we could be guaranteed fun in the sun when we are with our friends, we still need to reserve time for ourselves, and maybe for that special someone in our lives. We could always talk about anything, or (if we don't feel like talking) we could stop and take the time to smell the flowers.

Spring Begins New Semester . . .

Activities Bring Year to Close

With the arrival of longer days and warmer temperatures, spring had officially begun. Along with the arrival of spring came the hectic, fun-filled days of second semester. The crazy antics of the slaves on slave day got second semester off to a running start. The slave auction, held in February, put new life into the halls. The slaves were subjected to wearing "different" clothes, to dancing, to singing, and to just about anything dreamed up by their owners.

The powder puff pep rally and game, perhaps the high point of the spring season, brought some definite changes to the halls of Smith.

Students were allowed to switch roles for a day. The female students donned football gear; while the male students led cheers, performed dance routines, and twirled batons. The seniors triumphed over the rookie juniors with a score of 25-13.

The annual talent show or officially the Fine Arts Review was held in the evening rather than as a paid assembly as in the past. While students may not have appreciated the lack of paid assemblies, the show had a sense of professionalism about it and was a great success.

Banquets were prevalent throughout the spring. The purpose of these banquets was to recognize students who had participated in various organizations throughout the year.

Clubs held officer elections and began making preparations for the coming year.

All these events symbolized the gradual wind-down of the year.

Attempt on Papal Life

Pope John Paul II, after receiving the Papal throne, began conducting audiences with his people. May 13, during one of his audiences, an old Turk raised his semiautomatic pistol and fired at the Pope in his "Popemobile." The Pope's abdomen and one hand was hit. Although he was not assassinated, he was admitted, discharged, and readmitted to the hospital over a course of a couple months for treatments.

Baseball Takes Break

June 12, the players of Major League Baseball went on a 50 day strike. The complex issue which the strike developed over was a protest. The players walked out in protest of the club owners' demand for increased compensation on players they lose to another team as "free agents." This walkout caused many people to lose their jobs; with no spectators coming to stadiums to watch baseball, the field attendants, concession and souvenir personnel were no longer required by the stadiums' management.

Prince Weds Lady Di

The awesome pageantry of the marriage of Lady Diana Spencer to Prince Charles exemplified the prestige and elegance of the Royal Family of Britain. In July, the world watched the Royal Couple exchange vows in Sir Christopher Wren's St. Paul's Cathedral. After the ceremony, the couple preceded to a royal landau which carried the couple through the cheering crowds of touring spectators.

Cronkite Era Comes to an End

Walter Cronkite, the most trusted man in America, retired as anchorman and editor of the CBS Evening News March 6th. His reassuring baritone voice kept millions of Americans informed of the bad — and sometimes the good — news for almost twenty years. With his retirement goes the man who gave shape and respect to the role of journalist. Rather than waiting until he would be 65 in November, Walter Cronkite decided to leave early in order to make room for Dan Rather — who took his place. The only person who was relaxed about his leaving was Walter Cronkite himself. He will be back on television from time to time. He made 13 episodes of CBS's science series, Universe, and will make occasional specials. However, we will not hear, except on previously taped news broadcasts, those famous ending words, "And that's the way it is."

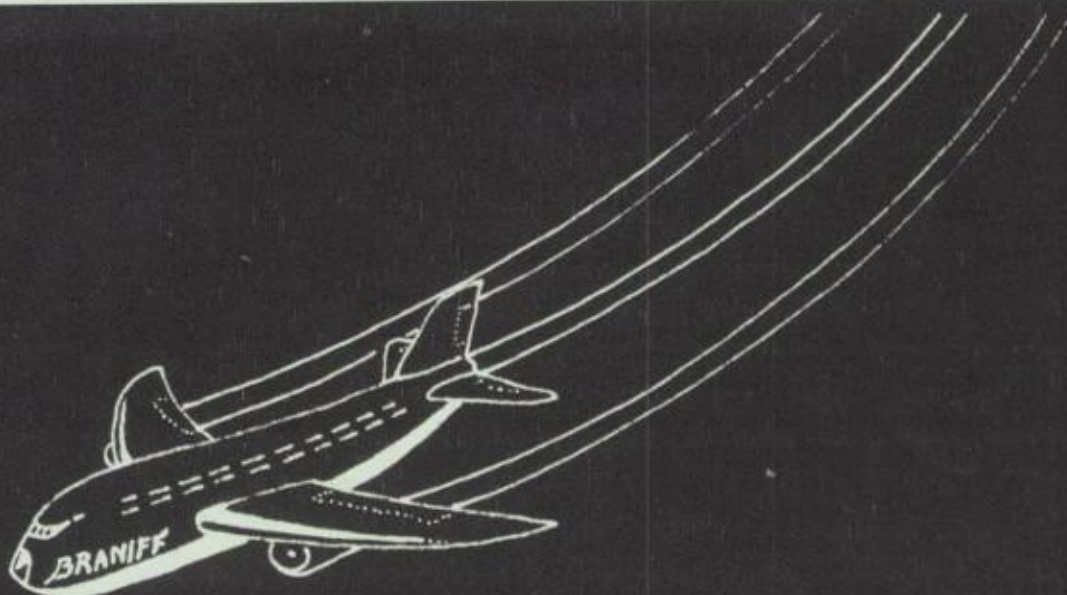

Egyptian Death

Anwar Sadat, Egyptian leader and anti-war activist was assassinated along with 35 other injuries and deaths. The murderers created the scene of death during a parade in Cairo. As the army paraded past the reviewing stand, where the dignitaries were seated, four Muslim fanatics appeared from a truck, throwing grenades and firing automatic weapons. The sudden impact was not felt until Sadat was found dead under a few of his subjects.

Waring Air Fares

After the Air Traffic Controllers Strike, in July, airlines hit a period of financial near ruin. In an effort to reestablish their fiscal position and encourage travel, the airlines — launched by Braniff — offered a "buy one get one free" policy.

Federal Programs Cut

President Reagan's budget proposals, better known as Reaganomics, have affected many people across the nation. Among the federally funded programs hardest hit were medicare, food stamps, education and student loans. Those cuts helped to increase the defense budget by 10% bringing defense spending to $221 billion by 1983. The national deficit exceeds previous budget deficits by $40 billion.

Solidarity Unites

Prices began rising in Poland, and soon the Polish people could not afford to buy the basic necessities of life. To protest the high prices, the Polish people went on strike. Many Polish workers joined together to form the Solidarity Union. The union began executing a series of one day strikes. On December 13, the government declared martial law in hopes to put down the striking workers, and Solidarity leader Lech Walesa was arrested. In April some of the restrictive measures imposed in December were lessened. The economic instability and political unrest caused membership in the Communist party in Poland to drop drastically. The party originally had three million members. One million members who were dissatisfied with the party's policies dropped their membership.

Williams Convicted

Over a two year period twenty-eight young blacks were killed in Atlanta. No clues could be found that pointed toward the murderer or murderers. Finally carpet fibers were found that pointed to Wayne Williams as the murderer of two young blacks. Williams was convicted early in March of two of the twenty-eight murders. The case of the Atlanta murders was closed to further investigation.

Weather Stuns Nation

Cold temperatures, ice and snow were synonymous with the winter of '82. Temperatures reached lows across the nation. Because of the consistently low temperatures, Lone Star Gas had to curtail gas to public buildings. Carrollton-Farmers Branch ISD was closed for two days due to the hazardous driving conditions.

Many people took advantage of the vast amounts of snowfall and went skiing. Others enjoyed time off from school and work to get caught up on their sleep.

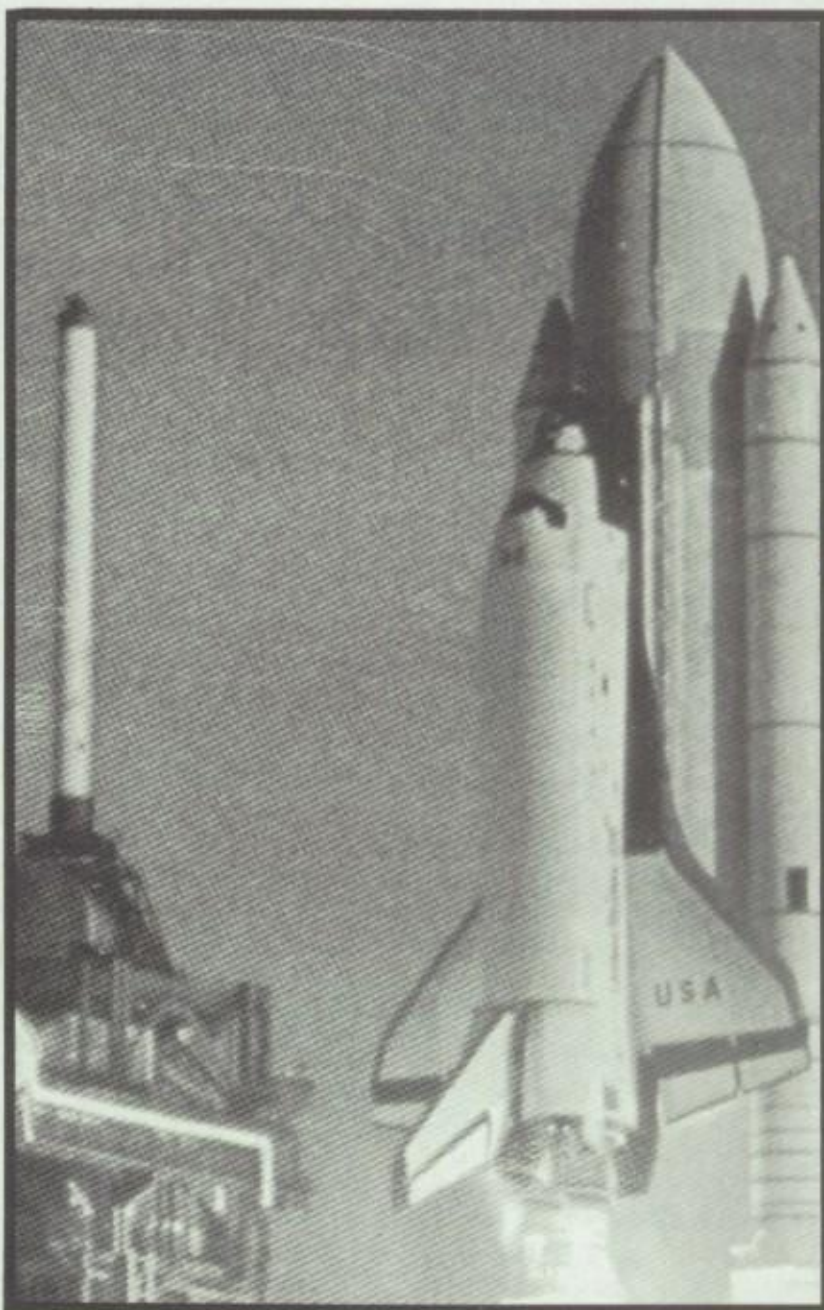

Falklands Under Attack

The Falkland Islands crisis began with the Argentinian takeover of the British controlled islands on April 2. With the Falkland Islands, lying a few miles off of the Argentine coast, Argentinians believed that the islands rightfully belonged to them. Alexander Haig, U.S. Secretary of State, proposed several methods to resolve the crisis, but both England and Argentina rejected the proposals. Fighting began on May 1st, with the British making the first move. And the war continued . . .

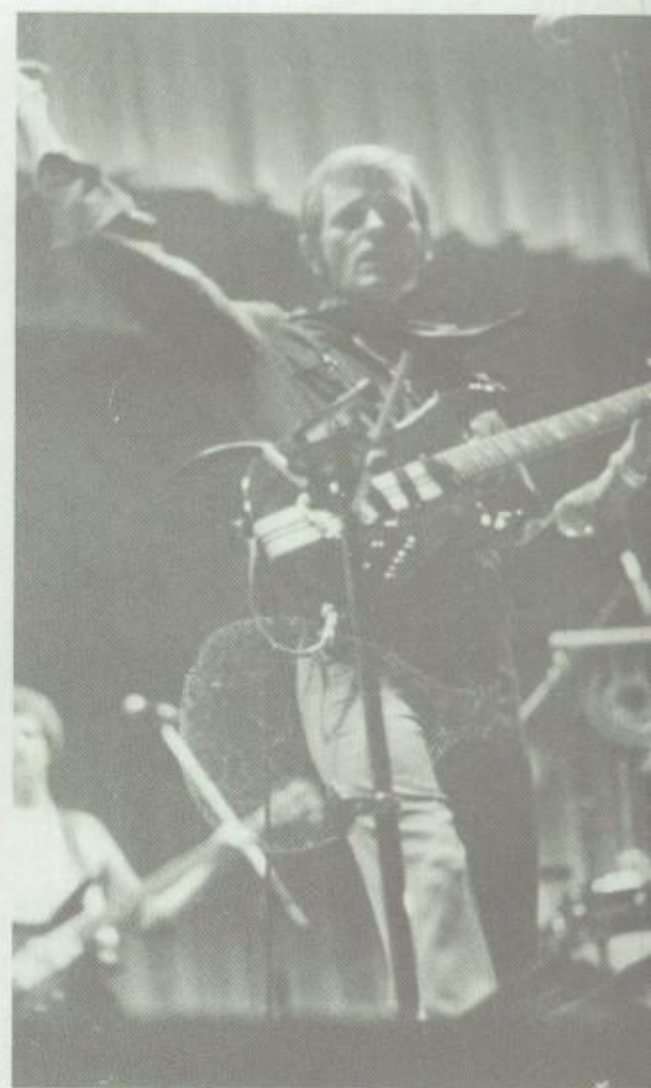

Columbia Takes Off

The space shuttle Columbia orbited the earth at three different times: once in April, once in November, and again in March. The first two missions were 24 days each, while the third mission lasted 7 days. The Columbia was launched at Kennedy Space Center at Cape Canaveral, Florida and set down at various points. Each of the astronauts taking part in the missions were heroes in the eyes of the American people. A 4th mission was planned for June 27.

Blue Morning, Blue Day . . .

Inclement Weather Presides Over Fairs

This year's Fair Day holiday on Monday, October 12th, definitely did not live up to its name in being a fair day; instead rain came pouring down in torrents. The Carrollton County Fair, taking place on the following Saturday, was also threatened by foul weather.

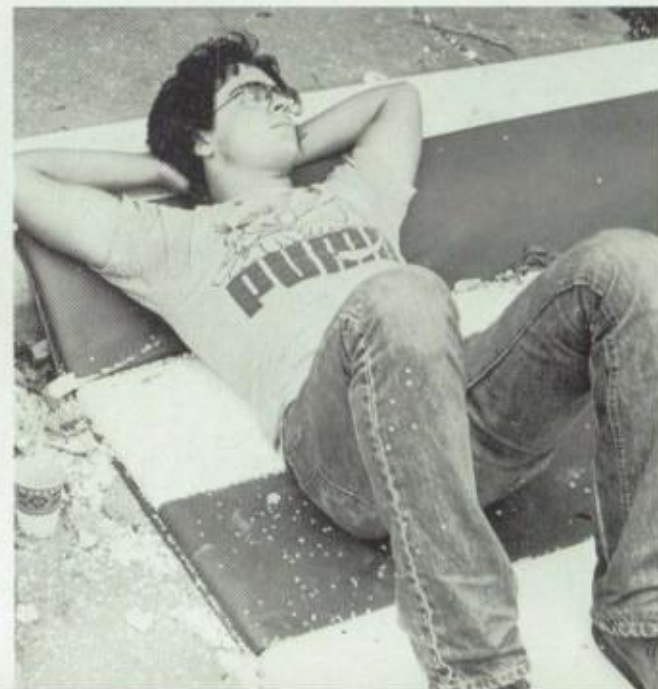

These adverse weather conditions did not seem to deter the fairgoers though, as they enmassed at both fairs by the thousands. It seems the temptation of good food and good fun was too much to resist.

Despite publicity about the safety regulations on the carnival rides or rather the lack of them, fairgoers enjoyed the rides and were willing to wait in line for a thrilling and sometimes frightening experience.

The Carrollton Country Fair offered a variety of arts and crafts, giving the fairgoers an opportunity to do some of their Christmas shopping early.

From the arts and crafts at the Country Fair, to the rides and games at the State Fair, both fairs seem to have something for everyone.

Tradition Ends

A New Beginning

The suspense was building as Friday, October 2 drew near. On that memorable night, to many, was played "the" football game of the year. By the end of the week students were climbing the walls to discover what the outcome of the game would be.

Early in the week the Smith vs. Turner syndrome struck. The students decorated their cars, they covered the walls of the school with posters and streamers, and they dug from their closets every piece of green and gold clothing they could find. Helium balloons were sold throughout the week to determine which class had the most spirit. These balloons were released before the game. On this week, the student body had one goal in mind, to beat Turner and therefore start a new tradition.

The suspense grew as the night of the game drew near. No one knew what the outcome of the game would be. Although, if the amount of spirit and student anticipation were any indication as to the outcome of the game, the Trojans had it in the bag. With all of the students behind the football team, they were able to hand Turner a 17-10 defeat.

A new tradition has been set!

Fun and Money

All in a Day's Work

For some Newman Smith students 3:30 was not quitting time. These were students who held part-time jobs. Some students began their work days earlier, as many of them went to school half days. These students put up their books for a few hours in order to enter the working world.

Students held jobs for many reasons. Some gained experience through on-the-job training, but others had to earn some extra spending money.

While earning money meant hard work, spending it came easy. With $1.25 for a gallon of gasoline, $12.50 for a concert ticket and $40 for a pair of jeans a week's paycheck could be gone in a day.

Not all students had jobs, and even those that did, had to have a little fun now and then. For many, the only way to relieve their frustrations and tensions were through various activities.

Some students took their "hobbies" very seriously, spending hours perfecting their skills, while others took these activities lightly and were content with having a good time.

STUDENT

Happy faces ... sad faces ... expectant faces ... every imaginable expression on this earth resides within the walls of Smith.

- * that look of jubilation that crosses your face when you experience a victory — personal or otherwise

- * the look of complete and utter boredom when listening to the drone of your teacher's voice in that especially monotonous class that we all experience at least once a day

- * the look of surprise on your face as you snap out of your daydream just in time to catch the last few words of that dreadful question you are supposed to answer

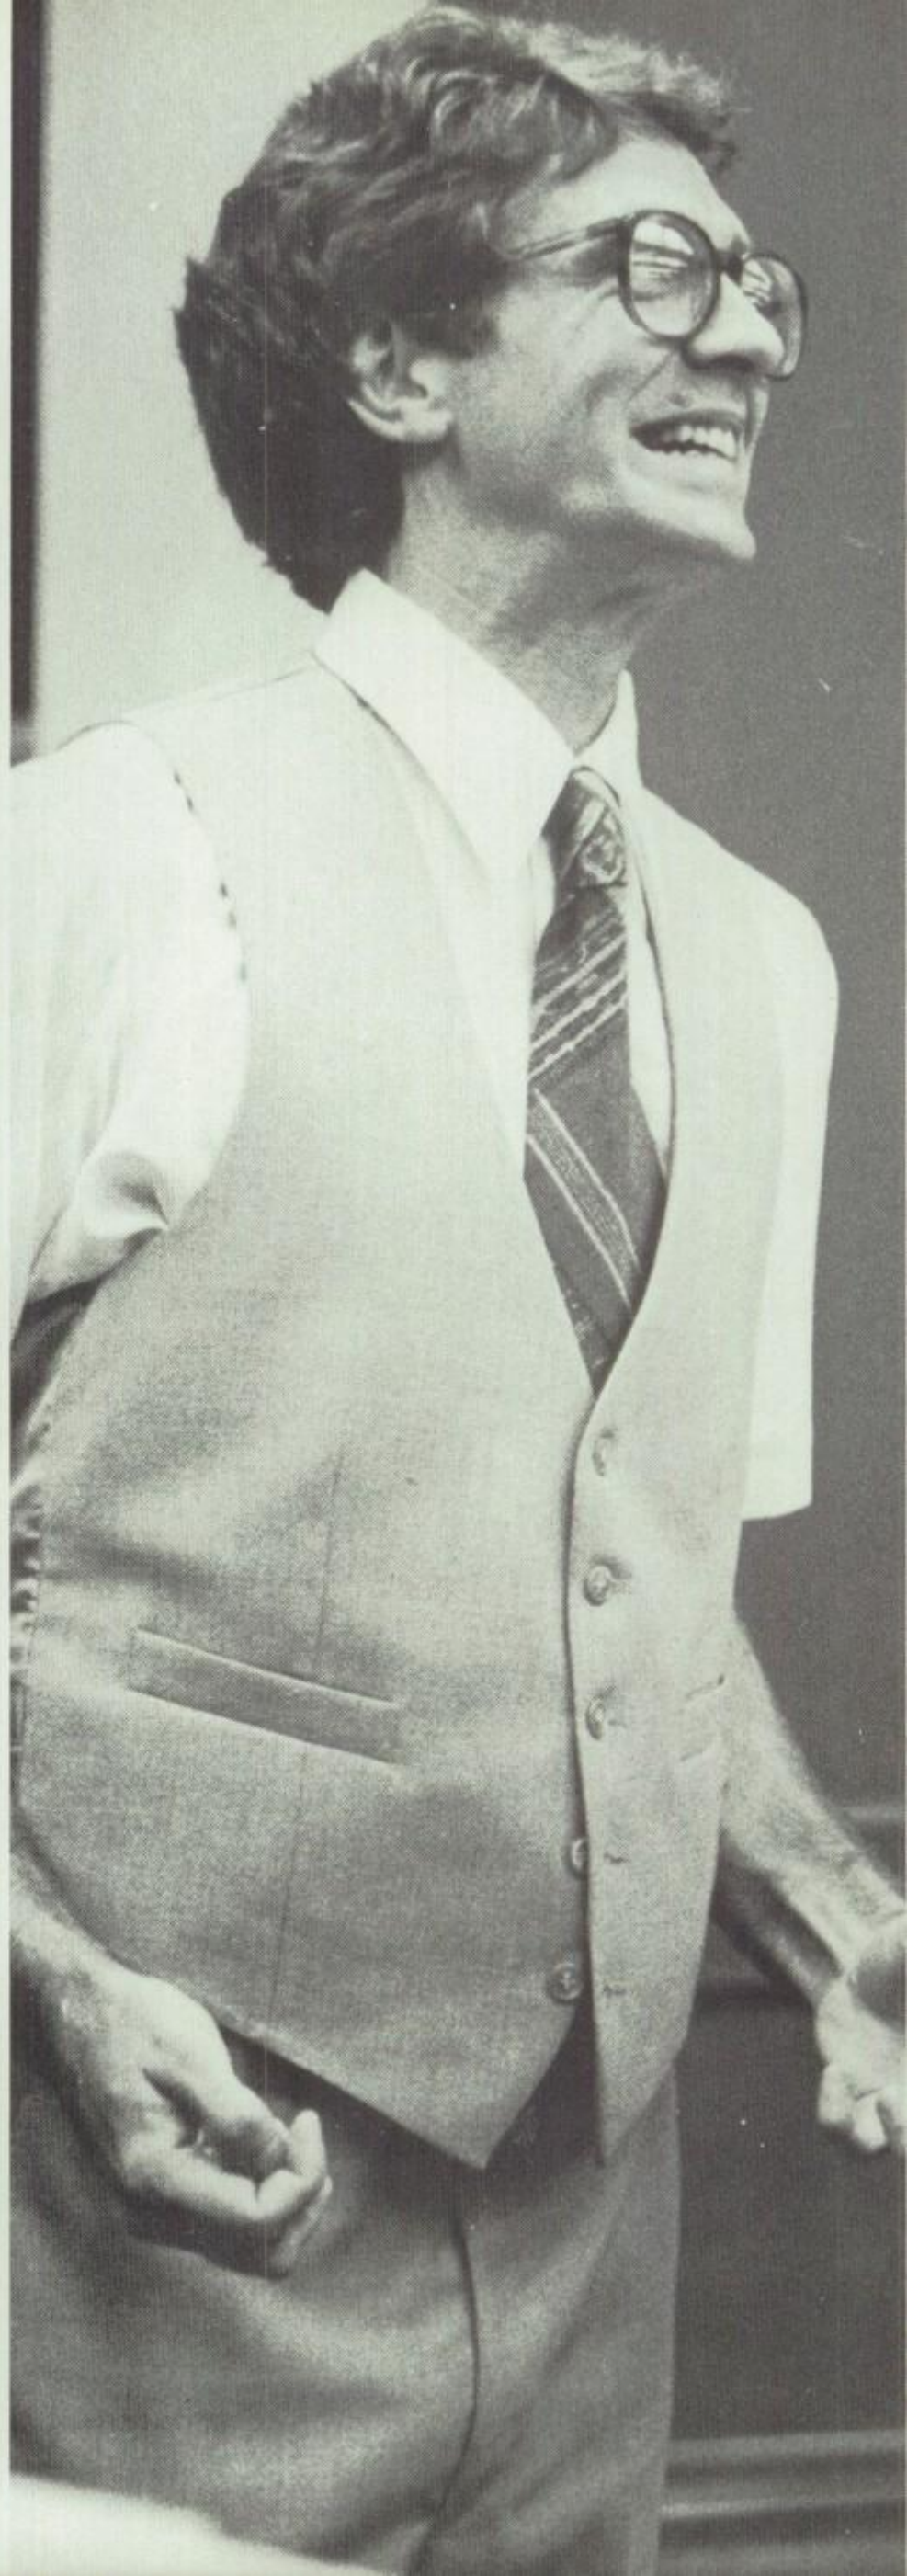

- * or maybe you are especially good at flashing an innocent expression when you have been caught doing something wrong

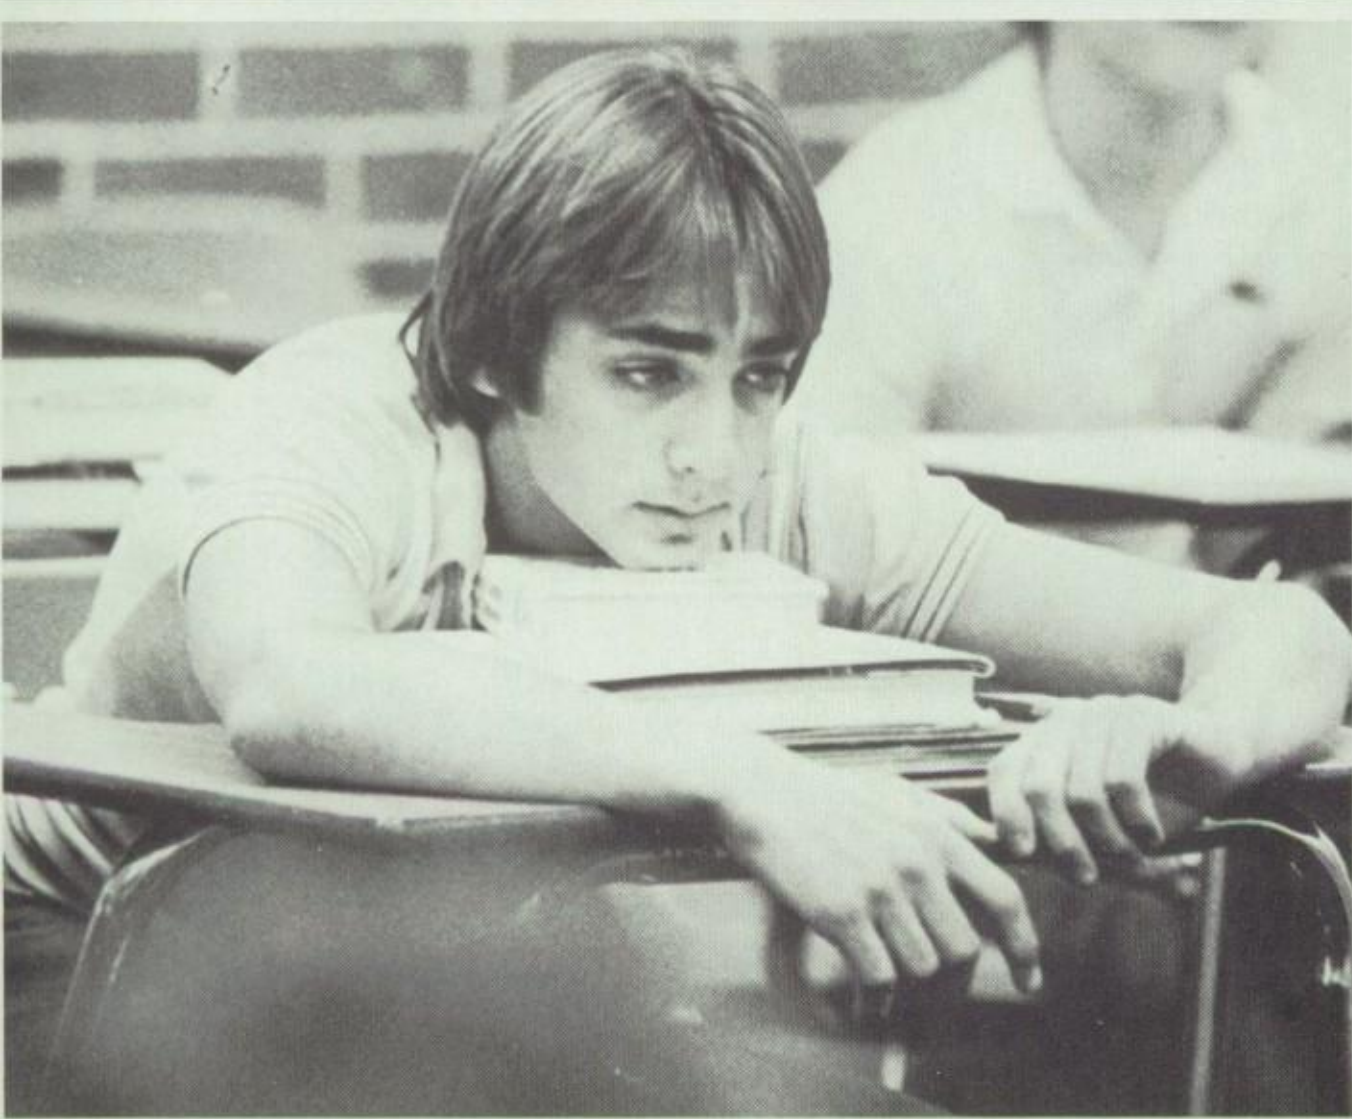

- * what about the look of the half-crazed student anxiously awaiting the last bell of the day

Whatever expression may be your specialty ... go right ahead ... express yourself!

Jordache vs. Levi's

Designers Pocket Basics

"I don't see why people buy those fashion jeans. A plain pair of Levi's lasts just as long, and they don't cost $40!" Funny how those same people who put down the designer craze just happened to be the same people who had the new fashions 3 days before they hit the market. Many of them became preppies in an effort to "better" themselves by wearing "the" clothes.

People began to lose their individuality with designers' names tattooed to their rump. Soon designers went for the whole body. With designer name bags, ties, shoes, belts, books, hats, jackets, dresses, shirts, sweaters, socks, pens, chocolates, perfumes, glasses, and of course jeans. Calvin Klein and Gloria Vanderbilt entered every part of our student bodies.

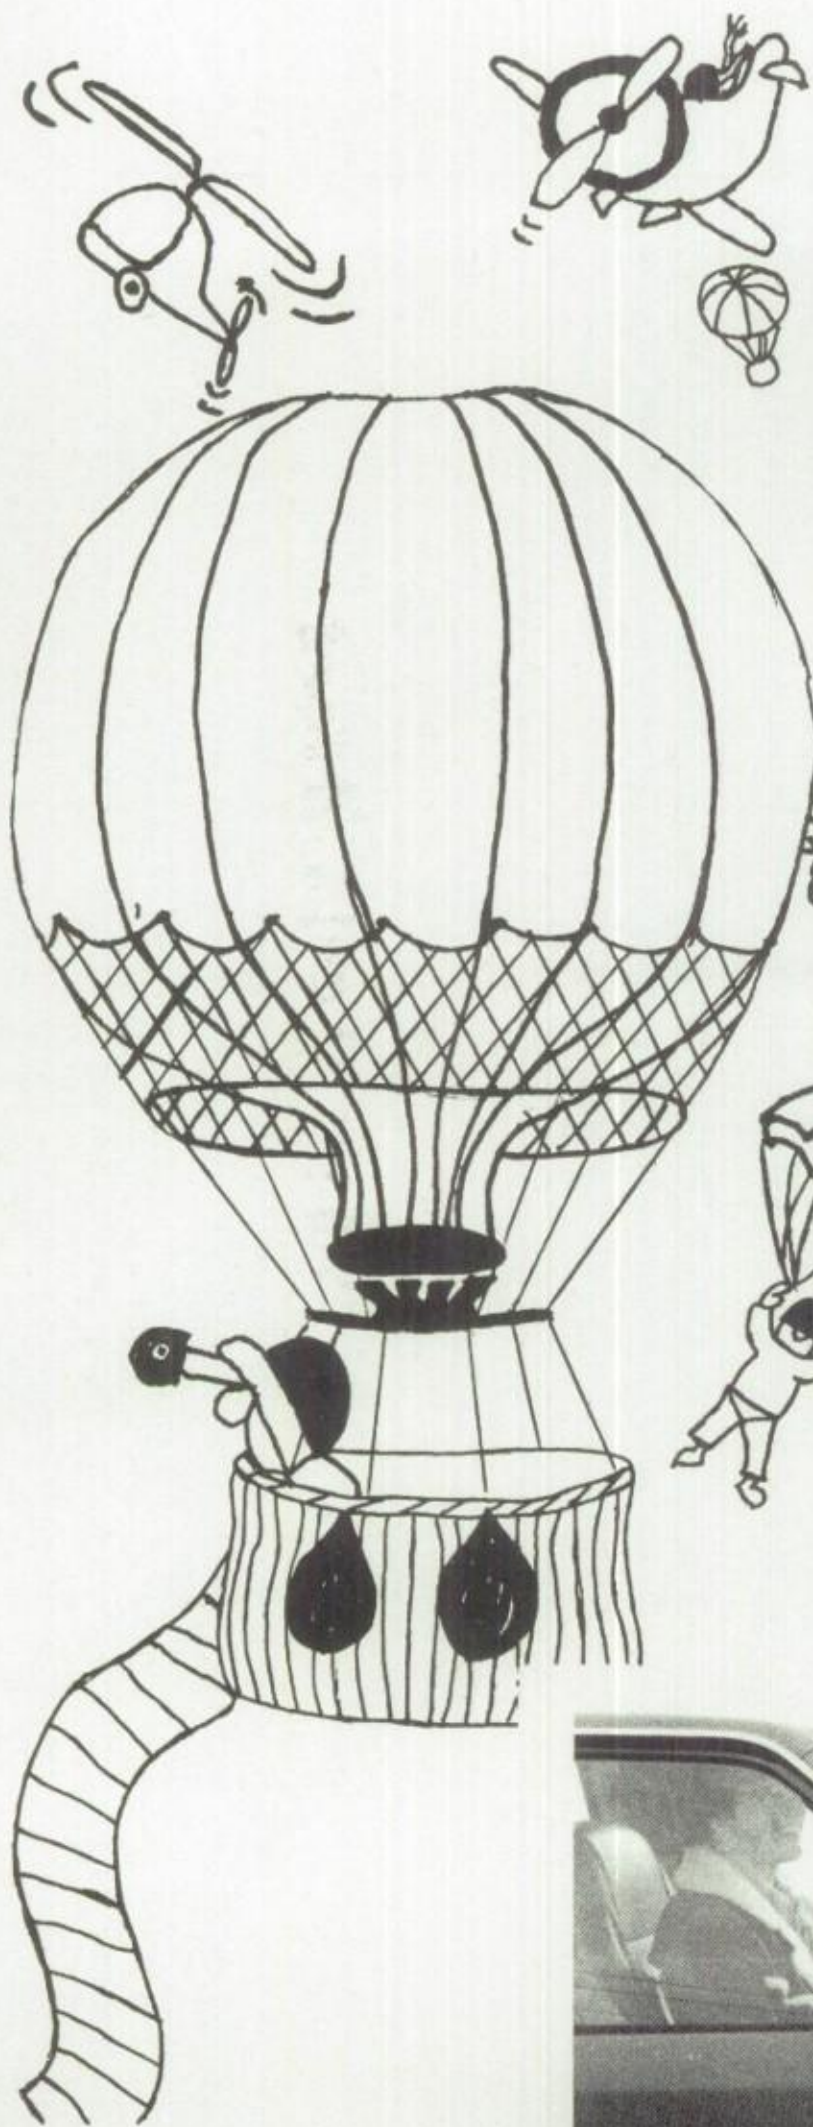

The basic preppie consisted of leather Topsiders without socks. Their jeans were chosen from a closet full of designer labels: Jordache, Calvin Klein, Gloria Vanderbilt, Chardon, Sergio Valente, and Polo. Prep shirts offered a kaleidoscope of colors. Any oxford or Izod/Polo of pink, yellow, pale blue, green, and white would top off the preppie look. Purple, maroon, grey, and navy were also acceptable.

How to Get There From Here

Cars, Bikes, Buses and Trains

TRANSPORTATION. Whoever we were and wherever we wanted to go, we had to have a way to get there. The biggest way was with automobiles such as 280 ZX's, Camaros or Stangs. With our own wheels, we were pretty much unlimited in our choice of destinations — except for the limitations caused by the amount of dineros allotted for gas. (Of course Mom's credit card sure could save the day when there was no Bread ($) in the bakery (pocketbook).

For those of us who either couldn't afford a car, couldn't drive, or didn't want a car, there were VERY few other alternatives. Bicycles served as gophers to school, work, and the store; although they still couldn't replace the comfort of a warm place in winter or a dry place in the rain.

For many underclassmen, the only alternative to riding a bus was biking. (J. Sigmon)

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS of '82

The senior year started early and slow. Instead of starting in September we started the last week of August. There were new changes and a new experience for all.

Senior privileges were limited by the administration and enforced by the faculty. Off-campus lunch was continued, because of the over-crowding in the lunchroom. The lack of senior activities was due to new rules that no classes could be interrupted.

Pep rallies were moved to sixth period. Because of the change, many seniors could not attend due to prior commitments. The seniors that did attend showed a lot of spirit.

Although the year seemed uneventful, we were proud that the football team trampled Turner. The first Senior skate was labeled a big success. With the exception of a few injuries, everything went smoothly. Our class took pride in electing the class song, "Time For Me To Fly" by REO Speedwagon, the class color and flower peach and cream and peach roses, and class favorites.

Each person remembered the crazy hangouts during our high school years. After the football games, we went to East Hills until the weather got too cold. Cruising Forest Lane was a favorite spot to pick up new people or meet with old friends. Monday night was reserved for going to the Gemini Drive-In theatre. There we gathered, but rarely saw the movies. And then there were the times each spent alone or with "special" friends.

Our special friends helped us with our problems and shared our happiness. They stood up for us and gave us a shoulder to cry on, whether it was when we dented our folks' car or broke up with our boyfriend or girlfriend. Not all good friends were schoolmates, but teachers. Often teachers lent a sym pa-thetic ear.

The idea that graduation would split apart the class was scary. It would be hard to leave the place most seniors had been for four years. Graduation would open new horizons for everyone. Most seniors welcomed graduation, because it was the best finale the year could have.

All in all, we had our crazy moments along with the serious. We all had to answer the question, "What will I do after graduation?" Some of us went to college, others into full time jobs. But the little incidents that happened during the years spent at NSHS remained with us wherever we went.

Tom Turicci, Andy Ethridge, Tom Spellman, Junior Ruth and Becky Ritchie are a few seniors who showed up for the pep rally. Senior attendance was low due to the time change. (J. Sigmon)

Fun in the Sun

Attendance High

Two major events for seniors that closed out the end of the year were the Senior Luncheon and the Senior Outing.

The luncheon took place May 12 at the LBJ Hilton. Upon arriving, we received a book of prophecies about our futures. After a meal of sirloin steak and cappuccino pie, we watched a slideshow. The slideshow consisted of slides from the last four years. Troy Dungan spoke for about 30 minutes. He was not able to stay and visit with us because the weather did not permit it.

May 24, four days before graduation, we woke up to a rainy day. The rain stopped just in time for the Senior Outing. The outing at Cedar Canyon Creek Ranch in Lancaster started with a barbecue lunch at 12:45. We thought the rain would cancel our fun, but the rain subsided. The volleyball tournament was won by Clay Thurman's team. Hayrides were taken every hour. Swimming was available whether you wanted to or not. Some of us tried to quietly watch while clinging to our cameras for protection. Almost everyone swam one way or another. Another popular pastime was mud fights; some of us had mud from head to toe. All in all, we had a few fun times.

JR. SR. PROM AT ITS BEST DINNER DANCE DRAWS LARGE NUMBER

"Who are you taking to the Prom?" "What, somebody already asked her!" "How should I wear my hair?" These are just a few of the questions asked when it came time for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. Students had planned months in advance for this special occasion.

The unique concept of the Prom made it original. The Junior Class decided not to have a theme but just to honor the entire Senior Class. From the first year the Prom was a dinner-dance arrangement. Tickets were sold to only seniors the first week and were sold out before school the following Monday. Maybe the fact that we had not had any dances all year made it even more popular. The Summit Hotel allowed us to rent the foyer and therefore 525 people were able to attend.

Dinner started at 7:30 with salad. The menu also included prime rib, baked potato, broccoli, and a chocolate mousse for dessert.

Remember the waiters who kept slamming the entree covers together. Some people had bought dance only tickets and had gone out to eat first. Those people were allowed to enter the dance at 8:00 p.m. The band, Larry Purvis, played us a variety of country-western and contemporary songs. Punch, fruits and chips were available in the foyer while waiting in line to have our pictures made. Mr. Studdert sure enjoyed himself standing by the punch bowl all night.

After dancing until 12:30 a.m., most of us went to a party. After staying up all night, we went and ate breakfast at Denny's or some place like that at about 6:00 a.m. Most spent the next day sleeping. The memories of that eventful night will last for a long time.

Honored Seniors

Glad to Be Grads

To be a leader of Newman Smith High School is a great honor. Not only are seniors looked up to for their leadership, but they are especially looked up to when they hold a special talent. The honor graduates have a talent in studies as exemplified in the Senior Awards Assembly by Valedictorian Troy McDougald and Salutatorian Jim Kramer.

The Awards presentation also recognized scholarships and outstanding seniors. The class of 82 graduated with many successful college bound seniors.

Graduation Day Speeds Forward

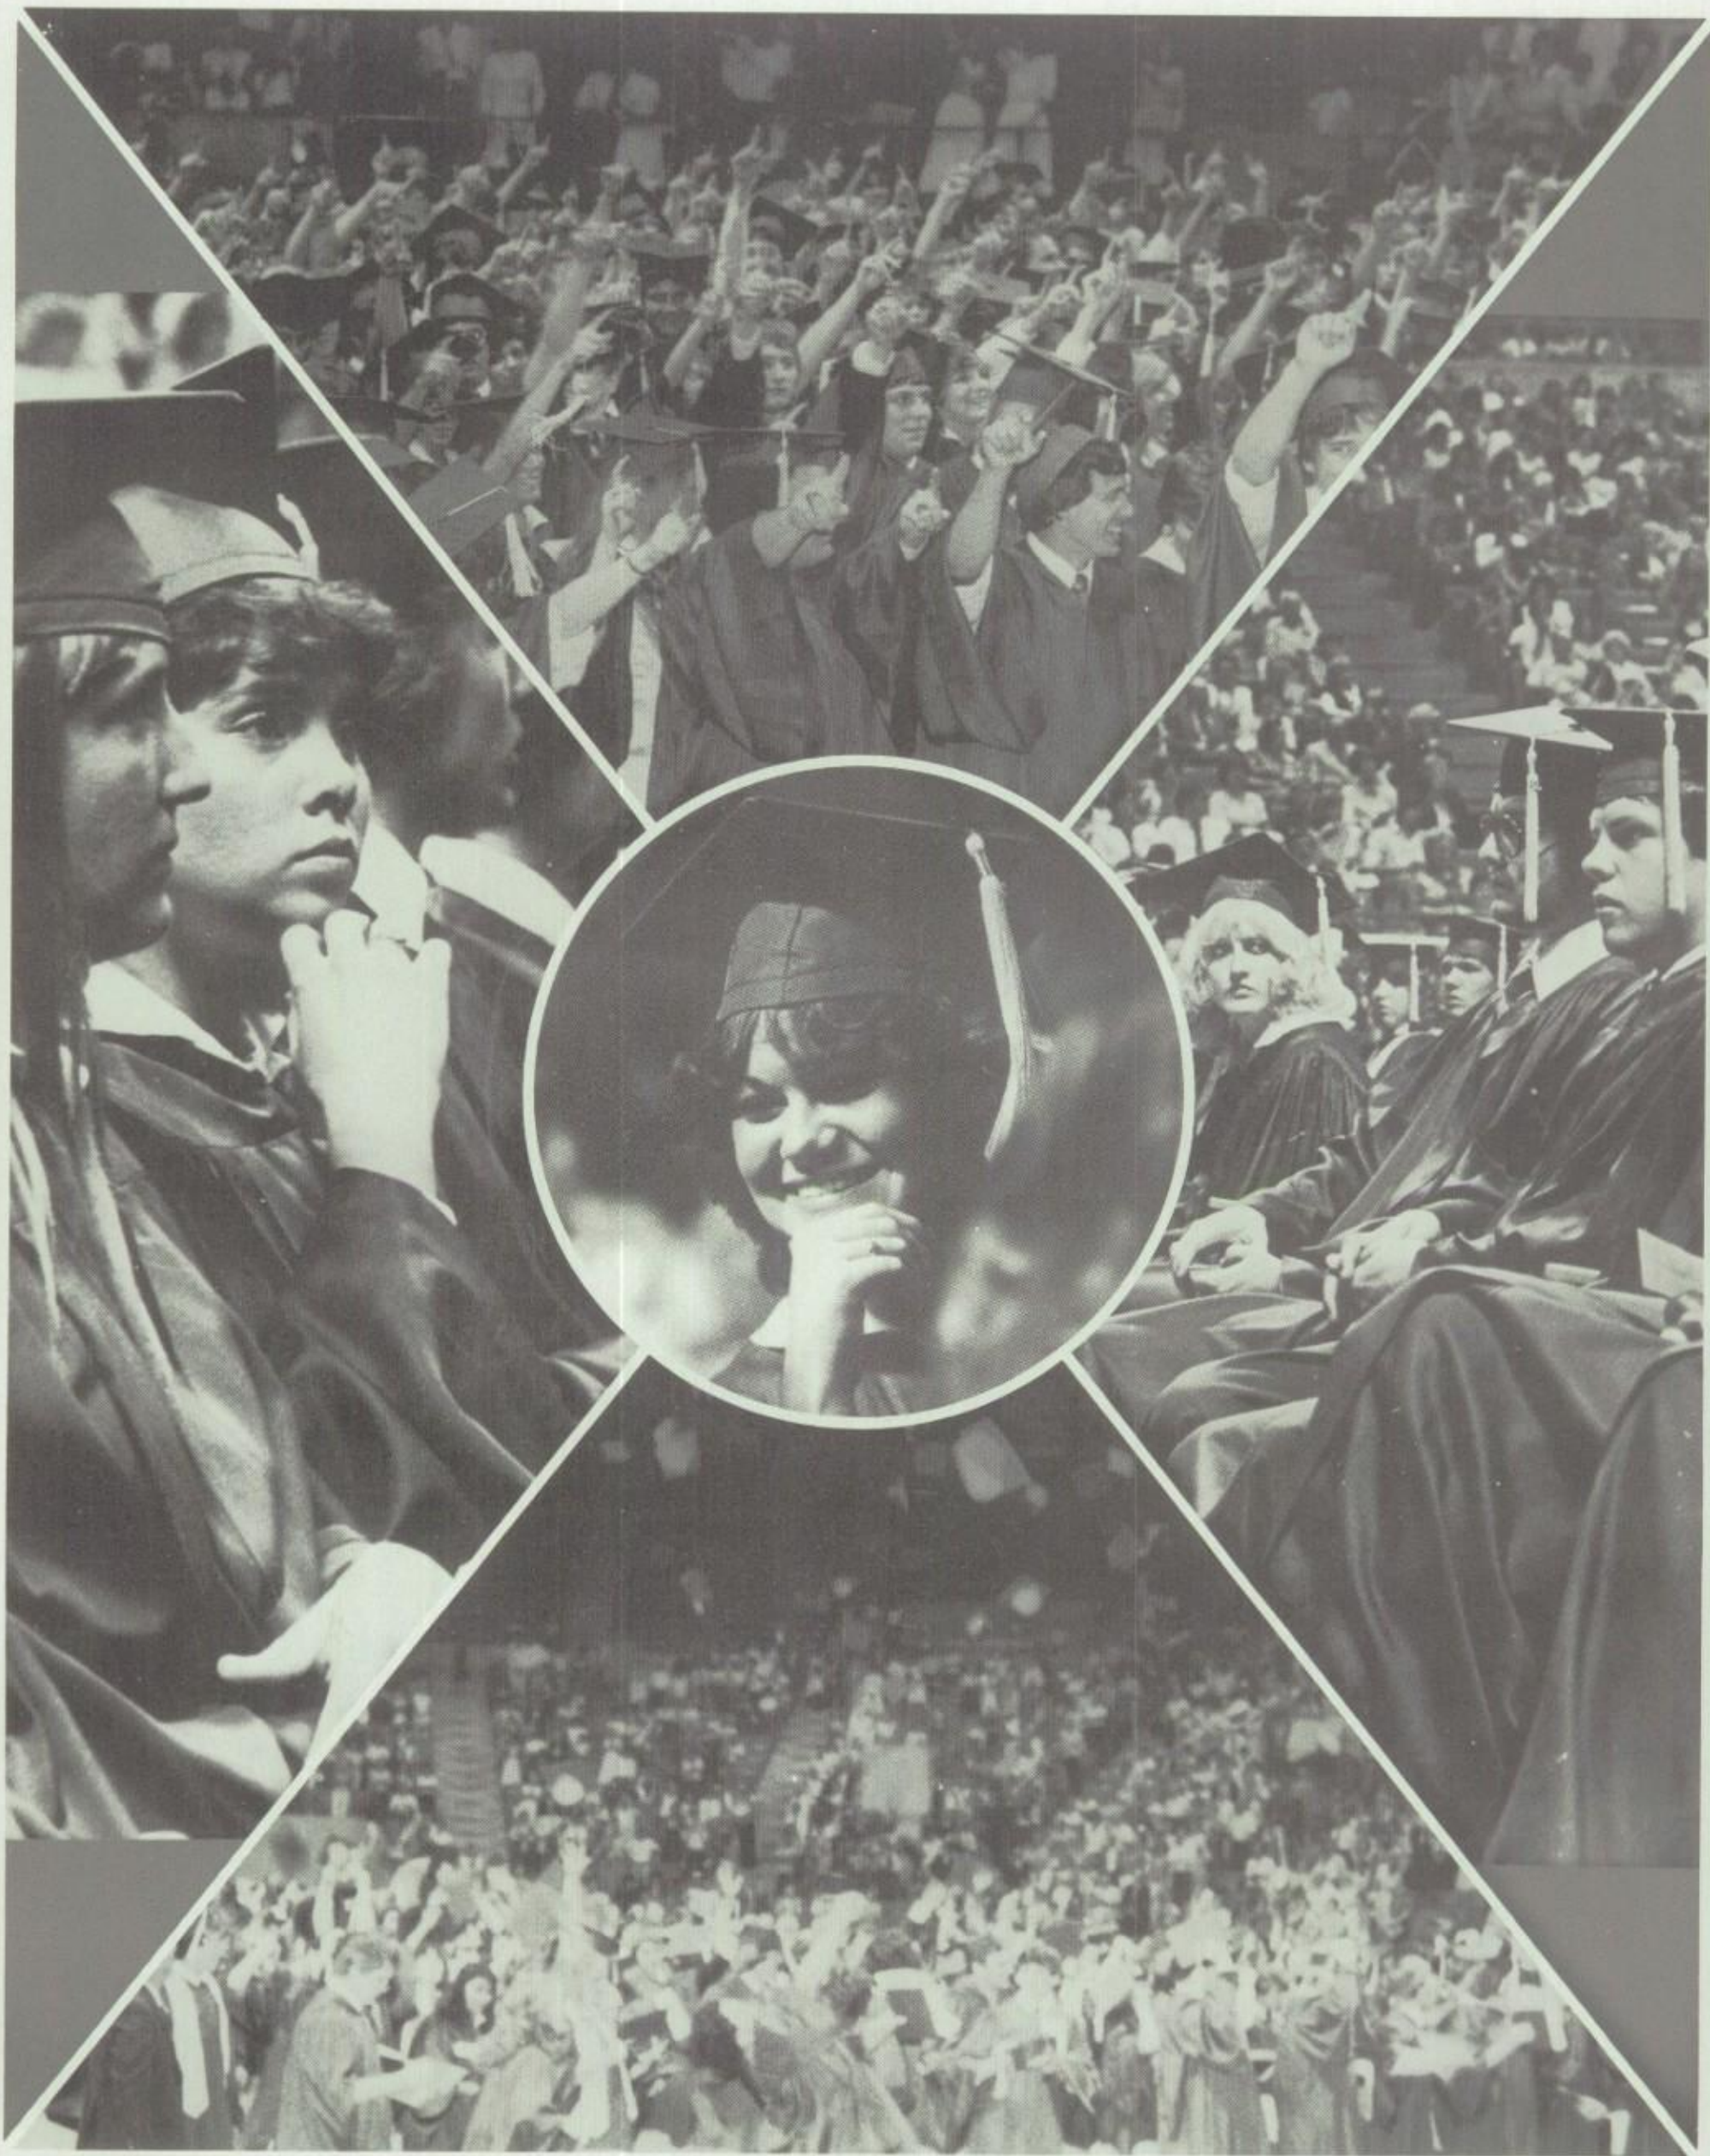

Spirits Soar as Last Leaves

Finally, the last week of school and graduation was only five days away. Rehearsal took place Monday, May 12. At 8:30 a.m., we loaded 450 seniors on eight school buses.

After driving to Denton, we listened to Mr. Studdett talk, put us in our places and talk some more. As if it was hard, we were told at least ten times to remember who we were standing between. We received our caps and gowns upon returning to school.

Saturday, May 29th soon came and we were ready. Instructions had been given to arrive no later than 5:00 p.m. Most of us were there standing around for an hour and 15 minutes before we started. We had to be dressed just right and our caps were supposed to be flat. The girls had their caps bobby pinned to them; most of us had to move them. We still didn't have all of them flat. Six o'clock came and we proceeded out. After the pledge of allegiance and invocation, Dr. Dan Long spoke to us. After about 45 minutes, we started receiving our diplomas. The school board members appreciated the marbles. They even said, "Thank You." I didn't know John Tyler was an honor student. As the last person crossed the stage, the class of 82 roared. We sang the school song and hats flew. As we waited for our turn to leave, we knew that it was Time For Us To Fly.

Up, Up and Away . . .

"I always dreamed of flying since I was a little girl." Kathy Campbell's dream came true. She started taking lessons in September. She attends them twice a week at Airpark. "The scariest part I've experienced was when I had to solo," said Kathy. But she has overcome that fear now and really enjoys flying. For the future she plans to be a commercial pilot in the Air Force.

Besides flying, Kathy has a horse to care for. She has had her horse for six years and has enjoyed every bit of it. She spends as much time as she can with her horse. Every day she goes out to the pasture to ride, feed, and groom her horse. "I feel that raising my horse really taught me a lot of responsibility," said Kathy. Kathy really enjoys the outdoors.

Juniors Progress

What exactly is the Junior executive committee's purpose? Well, according to President, David Garza, the purpose is to "organize and assemble activities and events that will benefit the entire class." Such activities include fund raisers, such as spirit ribbons, magazines, and the Country Fair booth. They also have had the opportunity to host the Junior-Senior Prom and organize the Powder Puff assembly and game. The question was brought to David, "What personal benefits has he gotten from being the Junior Class President?" His response to this was that it has been an enjoyable challenge and responsibility. He also said "It gives me a chance to feel I'm doing something important for the school and the junior class."

Off to a Head Start

The Sophomores were really on the move this year. They started off by entering a float in the Homecoming Parade. In the appearance of a football field their float took first place. They really worked hard to earn their prize.

They also sponsored slave day which was selling volunteer students who had to slave for the day for their masters. Sponsoring a school dance was also on the agenda for the sophomores.

They had a contest so they could choose their class motto. The students had a chance to contribute their ideas. They sold T-shirts which stated their class motto on it.

"I feel that we really picked up this year and got off to a good start. We want to build up and have the best senior class ever," said Linda Burk, sophomore president.

Taken for a Ride

A student's dream is getting a car and being able to drive. But first, one must have some sort of Drivers Ed. Quite a few Sophomores got left out this year. Due to the fact that the computers choose the students' schedules, many students did not get in Drivers Ed. Some Freshmen got in before the Sophomores did. Usually one is put in to it according to age, oldest gets the class first. But apparently it did not go by that this time.

Many students had to take it in summer school. Robin Schneberger was one of the unlucky ones. She said, "I think it's unfair because when I was a Freshman I wasn't allowed to take Drivers Ed. I had to wait for this year. But now, I still don't get to take it because the classes are full already."

Friendship Is . . .

Always being there, listening to your problems, giving a helping hand when needed, trusting and confiding in each other, and most of all being a true friend.

Friendship plays a very important role in our lives. As we go through high school, we make and meet many friends. Some friendships are kept forever, while others are often broken.

There are good friends, close friends, boy friends and girl friends. No matter what kind of friends you have, they are your best friends.

One goes through a lot with a friend. Good times and bad times, laughter and crying, are spent together. The best part of having a friendship is keeping and cherishing the precious memories forever.

Frosh Goals

Although the freshman class got started later than the upperclassmen, they have scheduled many activities to bring themselves recognition. They sponsored the mum sale in October, which proved to be their most profitable money-making activity. As a service to the elderly, they went to Northwood Nursing Home to sing Christmas carols and deliver flowers to the patients. Class president, Linda Turicchi is planning to come up with a class motto for the freshmen so that they can carry it all through high school.

Talented Frosh

One of the many talented freshmen was Missy Turner. During her spare time, Missy was a competitive ice skater. She had been ice skating for about 5 years and won 24 medals, including 15 Gold. Missy plans on going into figure skating later, but is not sure. She also participates in track and gymnastics.

ACADEMICS

Administration

Changes, Additions

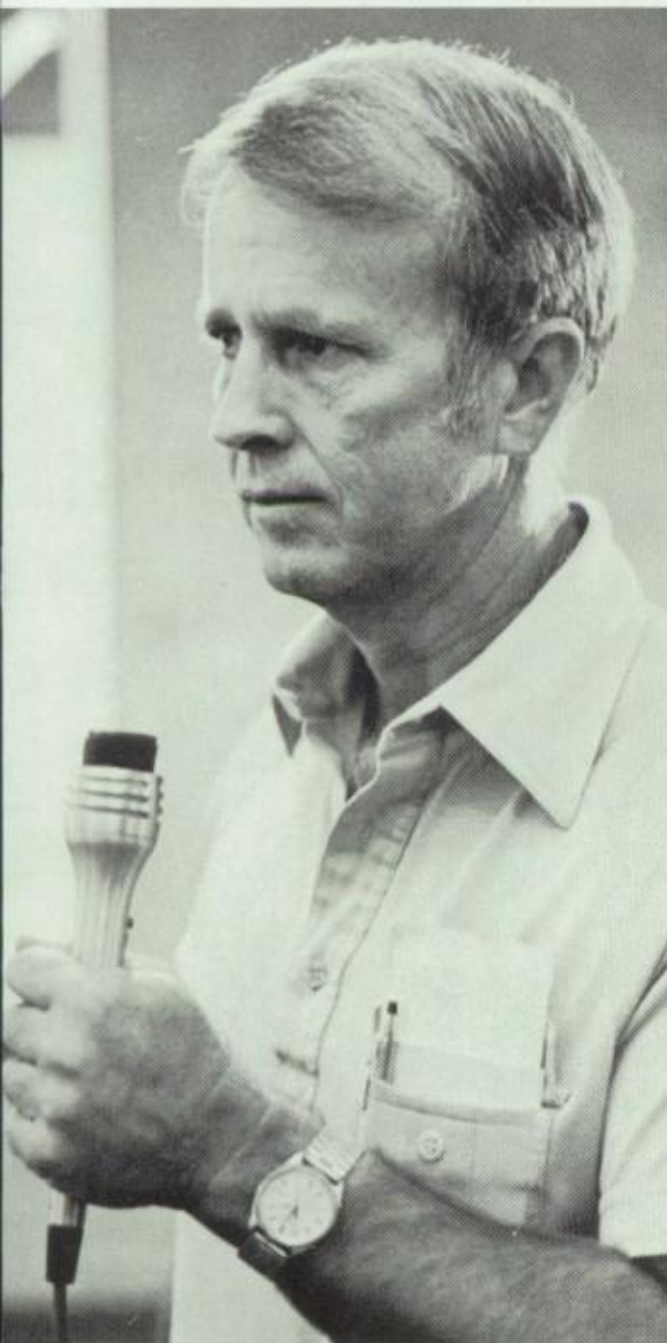

After the 1981-82 school year began, the school board was rated as the most outstanding school board in the state by Texas Association of School Administration. A new face was Mrs. Margaret Watson. Mrs. Watson had previously taught English and French before joining the staff here as an administrative assistant. Mrs. Watson handles all of the 9th grade and half of the 11th grade. In his second year with us, Mr. Ron Studdert found himself in charge of all the attendance offices, senior activities, morning announcements, the marquis, the school calendar, fund raising projects, and much more. Mr. Charles Bowlin maintained the parking lot, the buses, and the office in charge of the 10th grade and half of the 11th grade. Dr. Claudia Brooks, assistant principal, was busy with class observations, developing curriculum, budgeting, and counselors' programs. When asked about the year's changes, Principal Kenneth McKinney felt that the only major changes which were noticeable this year were the separate locations of the offices and the exclusion of the 8th grade. Mr. McKinney felt that the new locations of the offices were a plus in that they helped both the students and the administrators get what they needed more quickly and efficiently.

Teacher Breaks Away

School does not get the best of Mrs. McClellan. Last spring she took a trip to Cancún Mexico. While visiting Mexico, she took a side trip to Chichen Itza to visit the many ruins from the Fourth Century.

Mrs. McClellan has traveled to many places around the country. She has been teaching Spanish for 15 years and seems to enjoy learning and experiencing the Spanish culture.

She is also involved in many organizations such as: the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League, Dallas Lawyers Wives, Thres Jules Dance Club, United Cerebral Palsy Guild and from college Chi Omega Alumnae.

Mrs. McClellan also keeps herself busy by playing tennis and bridge. She loves to travel and to be with her family and friends.

Outside of Teaching

Jennifer Norris does more than cook. She and her husband show and breed horses. They started a breeding farm to show and breed Peruvian Paso horses. There are only about 60 of these kind of horses in Texas. She also owns many other kinds of horses.

She is proud of her champion Persian Cat. The cat has been in many shows and has won some of the highest awards one can receive.

Besides taking pride in her horses and cat, Mrs. Norris also makes stained glass windows and fixtures. She and her husband also own their own Shaklee business, which is in their home.

Trains, Trains . . .

Who would ever think to see a teacher play with trains? Well Mrs. Haws and her husband love trains. They have a huge collection of many kinds. They have miniature ones to large ones up to 7 feet. She enjoys collecting trains and attends many shows such as live Steam Meets and Model Rail Road Conventions. She and her husband also belong to the East Dallas Model Rail Road Club; she is the Secretary of Treasury.

One could say that Mrs. Haws is considered to be a Ferroequinologist which means follower of iron horse.

Mrs. Haws also enjoys doing arts and crafts, and of course, visiting train stations.

Counselors Work in Unison

The Final Day

Each year counselors work with students to prepare them for the following year. Mr. Mark Towers, ninth grade counselor, and Mr. Hal Barkley, tenth grade counselor, work with their students to get the basic classes needed. Mrs. Windy Sitton, eleventh grade, and head of counseling staff, works with the juniors to get classes needed for college, and prepares for their senior year. Mrs. Lynne Nance, twelfth grade counselor, works with seniors toward credits, graduation, and senior activities. Mrs. Lena Douphrate, vocational counselor works with sophomores for career interests, and juniors and seniors with CO-OP groups and careers for seniors.

Time for Change

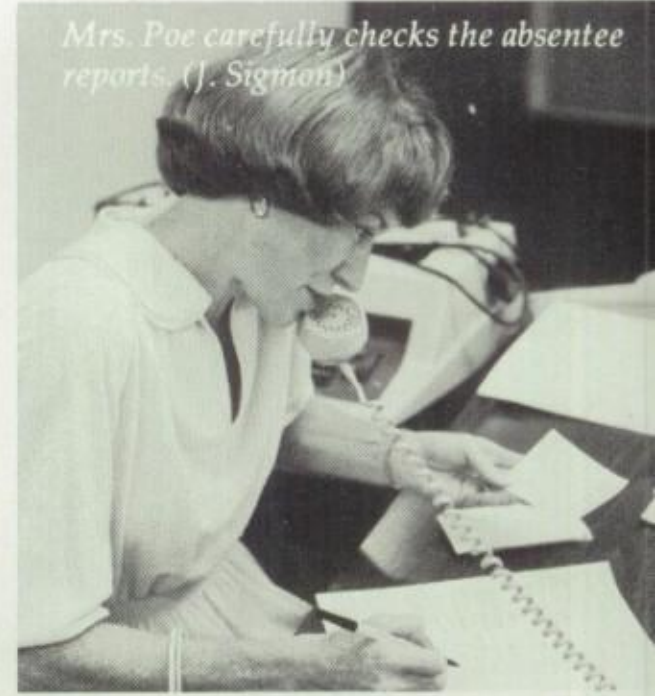

With the offices the way they were, the secretaries had something new to conform to. Instead of all working in the same office, they had a little more elbow room. Although this didn't keep people from confusing Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Borcharding, it helped a little. Mrs. Cooper worked in the senior office, M and Mrs. Borcharding handled the sophomores and half of the juniors in Mr. Bowlin's office. Mrs. Richardson was in Mrs. Watson's office which handled freshmen and half of the juniors.

Media Center

One common mistake that people often made about the media center was to think of all four of the ladies as librarians. Actually only two, Wanda Stauffer and Janet McFarland have master's degrees in Library science. The other two were library aides. Mrs. Stauffer was head librarian and her duties entailed overseeing all aspects of the library. Mrs. McFarland was in charge of audio-visual equipment mostly, but had other responsibilities. The aides helped out with other projects.

Required Classes . . .

Pupils Work for Future

Work, work, work . . . Throughout high school students are faced with much homework, tests, and daily assignments. Students dreaded their required classes, but they were needed to graduate.

Freshmen and Sophomores got stuck with a full load of English, Math, History, P.E. and two electives. Juniors had more of a choice of what to take depending whether they were college bound or not. Most of the Seniors only needed one required class, American Government, in order to complete their high school graduation requirements. Therefore, many attended classes at Brookhaven College to begin their College credits.

English was always despised for the lengthy essay or research paper. We were required to read novels, then watch the movie. Some of our favorites were: To Kill a Mockingbird, Romeo and Juliet, A Tale of Two Cities and The Red Badge of Courage.

The math classes were different. After taking Algebra 1 we had to take Geometry before moving on to Algebra 2. Many found ourselves carrying out the full load of math courses with Analytical Geometry, Elementary Analysis, and Trigonometry, which drew a larger crowd of students.

History classes were always considered to be a rest period. It was considered time to catch up on some sleep when boring filmstrips were watched. The work required was usually note taking, maps, and lectures.

The Science Department had a vast variety of classes offered. Some were: Physical Science, Chemistry, Biology, and Physics. We had a chance to learn what the world and atmosphere was really like. Some also had the chance to do some dissections on cats, worms, frogs, and pig hearts. Others performed labs and note taking.

Physical Education was needed in order to keep in good shape. It was a time for the students to show their athletic abilities and release frustrations.

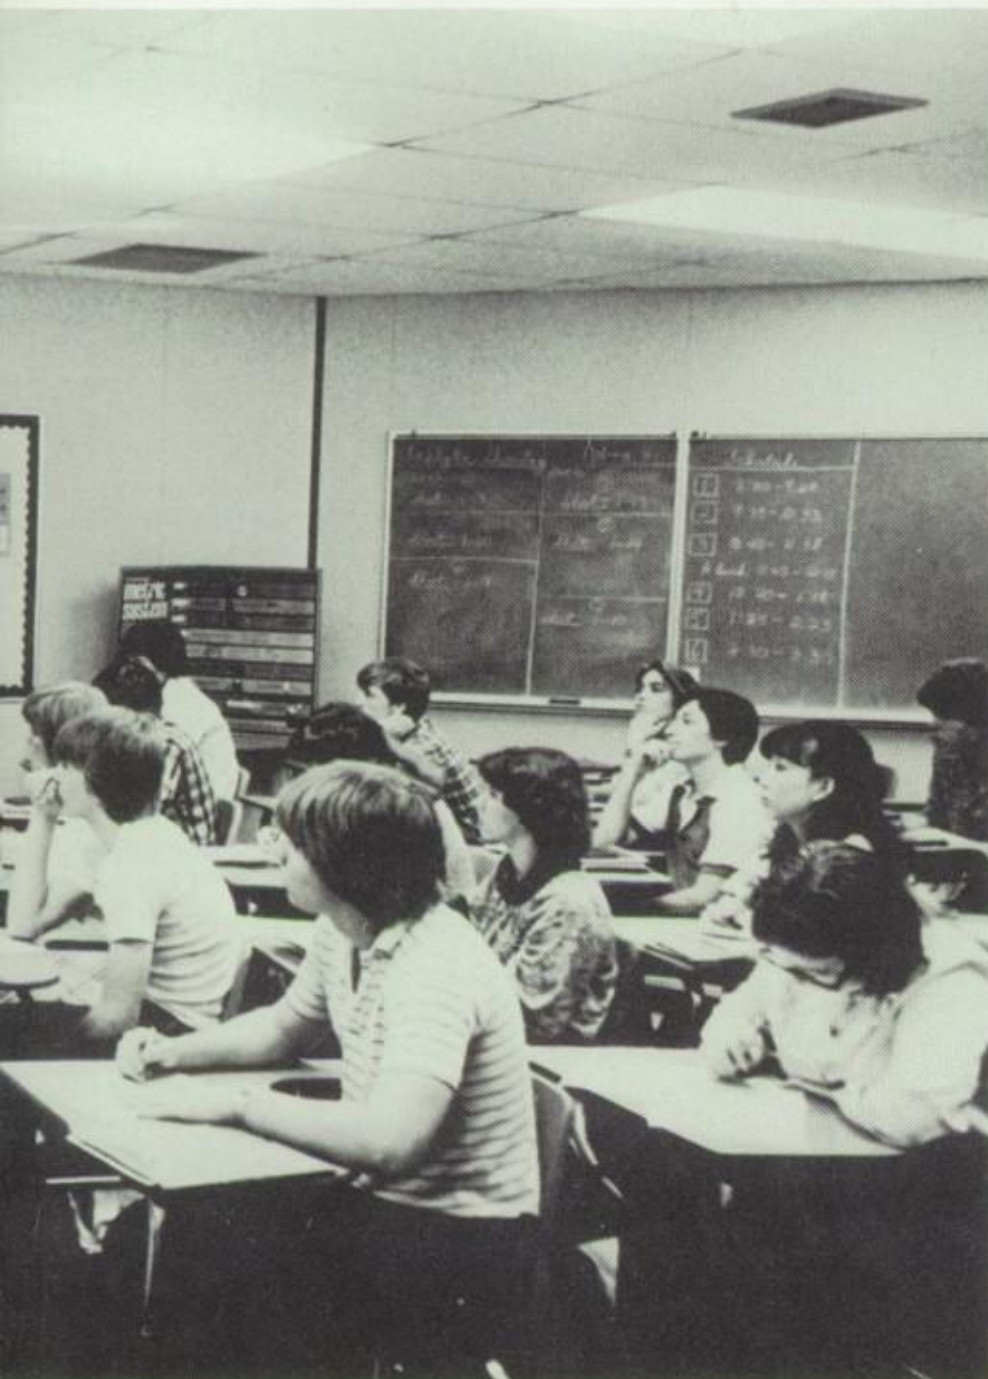

Lunch was always enjoyed. We found lunch a time to communicate with friends and fill our stomachs. Lunch was broken into 3 time periods, A, B, and C. The unlucky ones who had C lunch usually got stuck with cold food or a low variety of food choices. We were often found asking ourselves "Why do we have to take this class?" or "Why are we learning about this? We are never going to use this after high school!" But all the required classes in high school will later reflect on our future.

Optional Classes

Electives Help Careers

Electives were exactly what the name suggests, classes that students chose to take. These classes were commonly referred to as "blow-off" or "easy-credit" classes. However, this was not always the case. Most of these classes were just as hard to pass as required classes. Some electives offered people the opportunity to learn skills that would help them with their careers. Other electives helped students to pursue their hobbies or interests. Electives were offered in business, art, journalism, choral music, driver education, homemaking, band, foreign language, industrial arts, orchestra, speech, and drama. Each of these categories were broken down into specific classes such as typing, accounting, data processing, drawing and painting, symphonic band, concert band, stage band, homemaking, drafting, architecture, and woodshop.

These classes offered variety and gave the students a chance to use their special talents. Electives were offered for our benefit.

COOPS Offer Opportunity

The vocational program offered students a variety of opportunities to gain practical and specialized skills.

HOCE — (Health Occupations Cooperative Education): Local health agencies and professionals cooperate with the schools by providing on-the-job training opportunities for students. For at least three hours a day, the student works at a paid regular job in a health care facility under the supervision of a qualified practitioner.

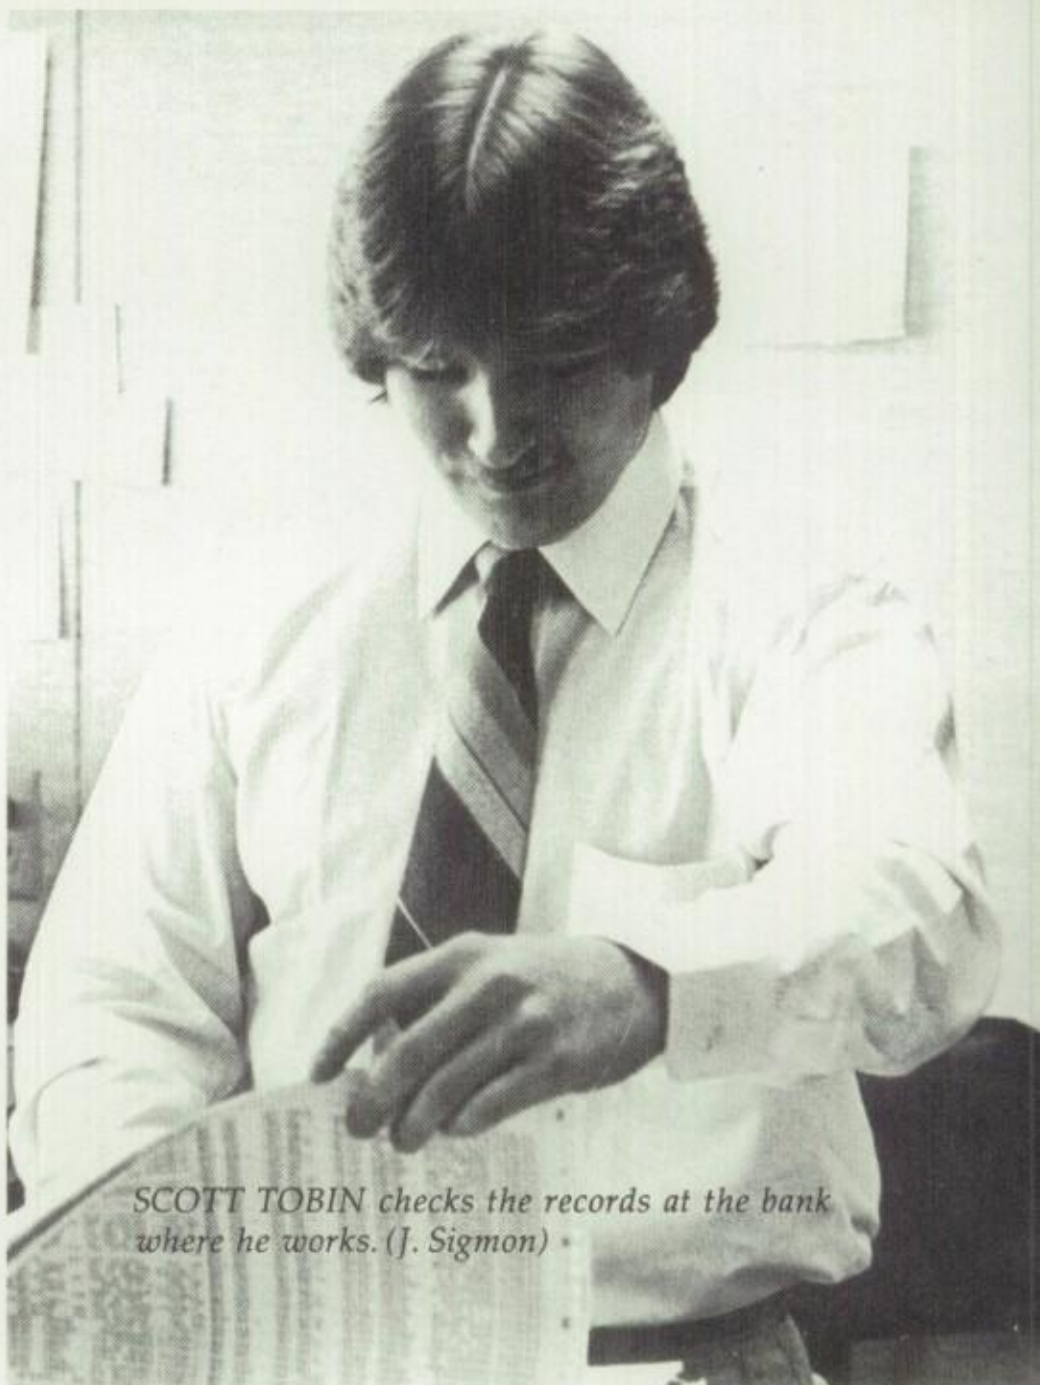

HECE — (Home Economics Cooperative Education): Provides supervised on-the-job training and related classroom instruction for junior and senior high school students interested in employment in occupations requiring home economics knowledge and skills. Prepares students for initial employment through the development of salable skills.

ICT — (Industrial Cooperative Training): The ICT program is a one or two year curriculum designed to prepare the students for gainful employment in one of over 80 industrial/technical trades or skills type careers.

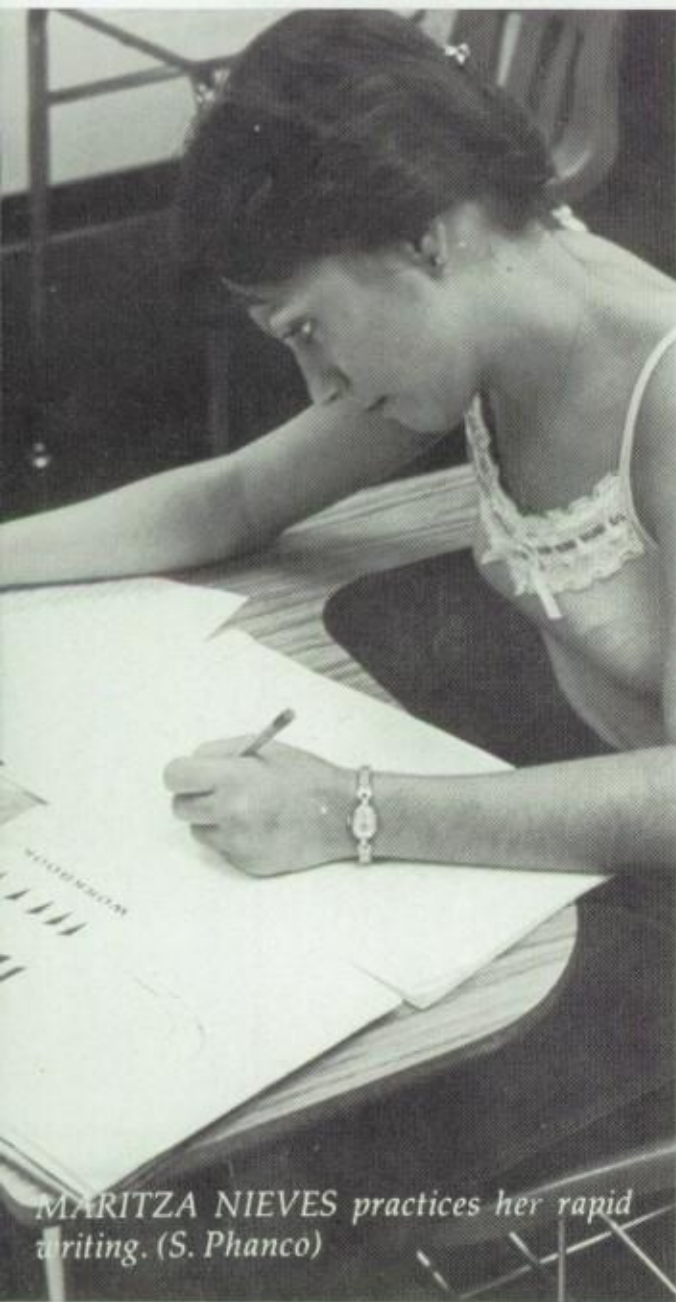

DE — (Distributive Education): An occupational orientation to the business world and the American economic and directed on-the-job experiences.

VOE — (Vocational Office Education): Designed to provide technical instruction and supervised on-the-job training and work experiences for high school Juniors and Seniors preparing to enter employment in an office occupation.

SPORTS

Varsity Football Makes Gains

The season began on a high feeling of enthusiasm on the last day of the 1980 season. The team began the long process of rebuilding and learning through the off-season program. The winter months provided the time needed for the coaches to prepare the team for an already expected tough season. The coaching staff consisted of Coaches Dennis Lemmons, Charles Ouisenberry, Jeff Davis, and Lance Brown to help Head Coach Bubba Fife in the development of the team. As the year progressed, the arrival of spring-training had come. The team began to show what their hard work in the off-season had done for them. Area sportswriters picked the team as one of the most improved in the area at the close of the training. Players Randy Plumlee, Dan Lewis, Glynn Crutsinger,

Respect in 13-A-A-A-A-A

and Mike Schmitz were well noted as being top players in the district. An improved team with a new sense of capabilities entered the season with hopes of gaining respect in District 13-5A.

The Trojans were first tested against Waxahachie. After falling behind 14 points, the Trojans produced a 21-point outburst in the final quarter to defeat the Indians. The following week put the team against Denton, a team never beaten by the Trojans in previous games. The defense's talent was unveiled with a shut-out of the Broncos, marking the first in the team's history. Defensively, the Trojans were rated 6th in the area after two weeks of play. The next game against Lakeview Centennial proved to be a heart-breaking one to the team as the Patriots handed the Trojans their first loss of the season.

Climaxing an already exceptional season, the Trojans met crosstown rivals R. L. Turner for the district opener. The Trojans dropped behind early in the game. Then entering the final quarter trailing 10-3, a Brad Branch interception sparked the Trojans early in the period. Kirk Landman topped off the ensuing drive with a one-yard run to tie the score. With 1:40 remaining on the clock, a 4th and long came up short for the Lions and the Trojans took possession. Two plays later, tailback Rodney Hare broke open a 16-yard run to tack on the winning score with fifty-one seconds left on the clock. The final score ended a tradition and began a new one. The Trojans then lost four very close decisions in the following weeks to opponents. The Trojans played Lake Highlands for Homecoming and a lone touchdown on a returned punt of 59-yards by Randy Plumlee gave fans hope for a victory, but the Wildcats ended up as the winner. The season finale brought perennial power Plano to Standridge. The game turned out to be a defensive struggle between the teams. Kendall Quisenberry, sophomore, kicked a 21-yard field goal to match Plano's point and eventually become the final score as the Trojans tied Plano. "I feel like 13-5A has definitely felt our presence this year," commented Coach Fife. "This is the first year that we ever actually contended in district play," added Jim Nevins, junior. With the close of the season, the Trojans had achieved what they had set out to accomplish: respect in 13-A.

Making a Comeback

Strong Incentive to Win

The Varsity Girls Volleyball team has come back this year with goals of reaching for the top. "The team incentive this year is to play to the best of our ability and to improve on the team's record on second round in the district," said Coach Ruth Stovall.

Many of the players said, "Coach Stovall is a great coach and no one could take her place." The team consisted of five seniors and six juniors. Robbie Johnson and Dana Thompson served as captains. "Everyone is supporting one another and really making this year great," said Senior Laura Roman.

The team attended many tournaments such as the Birdville tournament where Robbie Johnson was named best defensive specialist out of twenty-four teams. Dana Thompson was named first team all district. Joyce Obar, junior, was awarded with Honorable Mention.

The team opened the pre-district games performing above capabilities. They defeated teams from Duncanville and Bryan Adams and entered district competition with a 4-1 record. Their high flying season came to an abrupt stop as they dropped their first two district games. "We were disappointed because they were games we really wanted to win, but it made us more determined to try to beat them in the second round," said Phyllis McBride, junior.

The team left the court with high hopes of coming back next year better than ever.

Varsity Boys End Hard Season

Players Show Promising Talent

The "Hustling Trojans" began the season with a group of enthusiastic players to aid the team in their pursuit of the District 13-AAAAA title. The season resulted in a struggle to establish the team as a strong opponent in the powerful district.

With the return of six lettermen, the team was able to finish the season with a bright look for the future of the "Hustling Trojan" team.

The team was a balance of six seniors and six juniors that were coached by Jeff Foster and his assistant Coach Rick Flanagan. The team found a weakness in their non-district schedule. The Trojans played strong teams such as Irving, MacArthur, Euless Trinity, and Arlington Sam Houston. They also participated in three major tournaments. The Trojans traveled to Abilene to make their first appearance in the Key City Invitational Tournament; they also played in the Grapevine Tourney, and hosted the Carrollton-Farmers Branch Classic. With a tough district schedule, the players found the season to be a challenging one.

A strength was found in their shooting abilities. Seniors Greg Mayberry and Mitch West dominated scoring with their consistent performances under the basket and juniors Brad Davidson and David Steely kept the team rolling with their results from the free-throw line. The defense was kept intact with the hard work of Mike McGregor and Carlos Martinez. "Our enthusiasm kept us trying hard, but we seem to always fall just a few points short," commented junior Brad Davidson.

This was proven with the statistics that showed the Trojans averaging 52.2 points a game, shooting 61% of their shots from the free-throw line and completing 44% of their field goal attempts, while opponents averaged 60.5 points a game. Near the close of the season, the team chose junior Rhonda Bibby as the 1982 Basketball Queen during Queen Night in a home game against J. J. Pearce. Her court was made up of Tracy Gutschlag, Denise Maxwell, Robin Sheppard, and Susan Sill. At the close of the season, the team reflected on a season of ups and downs and looked forward to a new season with confidence, enthusiasm, and talent.

Pride and Determination

The Varsity Girls Basketball Team made a remarkable comeback over last year. "The team has come back this year with quickness, aggressiveness when shooting and great team spirit," Coach JoAnn Spradling said.

Many of the teams this year have set a standard goal to do better than last year against their opponent. But the Varsity Girls have set their own goal and have stuck to it. "To improve their better skills and to reach the maximum level before reaching district," commented many of the players. The team consisted of five seniors, four juniors and one sophomore, with five returning lettermen.

The ladies workout consisted of many hours of running, many basketball drills and much more! "It's lots of hard work but it really pays off in the long run when we win games," said junior Barbra Dixon. This year the Lady Trojans record was 7 and 7. Many of the players feel the season was so good because of the close unity the team had and their Pride and Determination.

Varsity Tennis Finishes 3rd

Constant running, extreme workouts, and long hours of strenuous work, paid off for the Varsity Tennis team this season. The team finished their season with a record of 8-2. The girls doubles team, Patty Burbridge and Annika Fryklund, who finished 1st in tournaments at Duncanville, Irving and L. D. Bell, and girls single member, Julie Hrebec, reached Regionals where all three girls finished in the second position of their respective matches. The girls reached the quarter-final matches where they were finally defeated after a season full of 1st place finishes in different tournaments.

A majority of the team was made up of underclassmen that provided Coach Chaccia with an interesting challenge. "The large number of under-classmen were not as aggressive as the upperclassmen were, but I'm looking forward to working with them next year," commented Coach Chaccia.

Wrestling Team Better Than Ever

Team Places 13th in State

After a successful 1981 season, the Varsity Wrestling team began their 1982 season with great expectations. With the return of seven lettermen, the team was able to bring back a very similar team to that of the year before. The team compiled a 9-3 record for the season that included many highlighting moments.

Outstanding achievements that sprinkled through the season included the placing of three members at the state tournament in Irving. Members Pat McMullen, Rex Roberts, and David Kelly all placed highly in their weight brackets. Pat McMullen placed third in his weight bracket only losing to the eventual state champion. Both Rex Roberts and David Kelly placed fifth in their respective weight brackets. Another highlight of their season was the defeat of Plano for the first time during the regular season. The total number of wrestlers included 28 members with the majority of the team expected to be back next year according to Head Coach Dennis Hutcherson. This year the team faced two highly respected teams during the regular season. Irving MacArthur, last year's state champ, faced off with Smith as well as St. Marks. Both teams proved to be a struggle for the grapplers, but the team finished the year 2nd in district after discrepancies in UIL rules prevented the team from taking the district trophy this year. defeated R. L. Turner to win district, a low grade was found by UIL officials on the team and the trophy was given to Turner instead. The team's trip to Regionals proved to be a successful one also as Smith placed 5th and qualified three members for the state tournament, where the team finished in 13th place. The only setback the team could find all year was a lack of members for the larger weight brackets. "I was kind of disappointed at no turn out of several big boys that wrestled in the past — that could have helped us tremendously," commented Coach Hutcherson.

The dominance of the wrestling team as a powerful force in the area has created a wide respect for the Smith team. "I feel we have accomplished a lot this year and other teams will have to know that Smith is here to stay," added Coach Hutcherson.

Cross Country Starts Young

Teams Find Big Help in Youth

Despite being overshadowed by other athletic events in the fall, the Varsity Cross Country teams began another season with an overwhelming advantage over opposing teams . . . youth. Only two seniors returned from last year's teams while a total of six lettermen returned to each team. The boys' group consisted of 23 members including only one senior; the girls' group was made up of 8 members with one returning senior. Both teams were coached by Mike Stewart who worked hard with each group.

The girls' team finished their most productive season in their history. They qualified to reach the Regional Meet where the group placed 4th and ended their season 2nd in district. "We felt we could win district. We really did well as a team," commented junior Amanda Zapata who qualified for the State Meet after individually finishing 6th at Regional Meet. Amanda was the first member of the girls' team to ever reach state competition.

The boys' team, on the other hand, was not as successful. They finished 5th in district, but their spirits remained high. "Everybody felt that we could and would perform up to our best capabilities," said junior Dan Stafford. The team worked hard and wanted to win as a single group, "but we also enjoyed just running together on the team."

After the season ended, most members began preparing themselves for the track season with the girls hoping to repeat their momentous season and the boys to have a stronger team to compete with.

Soccer Faces Tough Opposition

Varsity Plays Hard Schedule

The Varsity Boys Soccer team was one of several teams this year to have a change of hands in the coaching of the team. Coach Don Burrell entered the year as his first for Newman Smith and stepped into a season that included games against some of the toughest opponents in the area. The team not only played District 13-5A teams, but also teams from Denton, Lewisville, Sherman, and from the newly-built Plano East High School.

The team sought the challenge of the tough league and developed several strengths to use against their opponents. Coach Burrell noted a strength at midfield with Alex Lopez-Rogina, Daniel Park, and Yong Song. The defense also developed into a strong weapon for the team with the exceptional performances of Charlie Lopez-

Rogina, Jin Song, Alan Heath, and Steve Campbell. The only setback that the team was attributed for was a failure to have a successful scoring ability. Another weakness against the team was the presence of the Richardson schools in the league. "We are playing in a very strong district because of the Richardson schools, but overall the team is much improved over last year," commented Coach Burrell.

The season ended, but the 1-0 victory over R. L. Turner added a surge of momentum for the team as they once again began their off-season training for next year's season at the year's end.

Returning Lettermen Spark Team

Girls Soccer Returns Twelve

The Varsity Girls Soccer team returned to the field this year with a promising group that included 12 returning lettermen from last year's group. This added momentum boosted the girls' morale and increased their spirit to compete.

A total number of 16 girls played on the team this year and the group's competitive spirit, aided with coaching from Coach Susan Seibel, allowed the team to defeat both Lewisville and Richardson to finish the season with a 2-6 record. Of the 16 girls that competed on the team, only three girls were upperclassmen which placed an advantage on the future varsity teams of the next two years.

The year proved to be a season of ups and downs for the team as attitudes varied through the season. "Everybody was in high spirits about the start of the season and midway through, everyone got feeling down and at the end of the season, spirits came back up, but unfortunately too late," commented sophomore Kala Warren. The team, however, found advantages this year in their competitiveness and sportsmanship. The primary weakness of the team was the inexperience of the girls playing together on the same team.

Coach Seibel's comment on opponents was "that Richardson schools are our toughest competition." However, she expects next year's group to finish highly in the new district.

Swim Team Ends Sophomore Season

Coach Leonard Begins First Year

The Varsity Swim team entered its second year in competition for Newman Smith and the head coaching job changed hands over to Coach Tim Leonard. Coach Leonard coached four years in Des Moines, Iowa and began his first year coaching in Texas here at Smith.

Coach Leonard felt the team had a strength in self-pride and desire to improve. According to Coach Leonard, the team's goal was "to build Newman Smith into a strong swimming program through team effort, hard work, and desire to win." The team consisted of 24 members of which 19 were underclassmen. Apparently, this did not seem to give the team a setback as they finished a very productive year.

The only weakness the team could acknowledge was an inexperience in the sport and the lack of facilities at Smith. The team competed against some very strong teams, however, such as Lewisville and Trinity, and other not so strong teams during the year to gain much needed experience.

The future of a successful Smith swim team looked bright at the close of the team's sophomore year while members continued to show pride in themselves by improving their times in each meet. In reference to Coach Leonard, "Our competitive attitude combined with some fine talent and more experience will make the Newman Smith Swimming team a team to be proud of."

Golf Receives District Honors

Members Make All-District Team

The Varsity Golf team entered another season with high anticipation of finishing well in district as senior Mark Aston, three-year letterman, and sophomore Brian Watts, one-letterman returned this year to spark the team with their high credentials.

The team consisted of 11 golfers who played a split season with tournaments in Fort Worth, Longview, and Paris, Texas. The team finished highly in the Mesquite Municipal tournament by placing 3rd out of 14 schools and in the Longview Alpine Municipal tournament by finishing in the 4th position out of 22 participating teams.

The most highlighting moment of the season for the team was the awarding of both Mark Aston and Brian Watts for All-District 13-AAAAAA honors. Both golfers were named to the All-District team at the close of the season. The only problems Coach Jim Hawkins could note on the year was the lack of practice facilities for the team and the strong competition from district teams such as Lake Highlands, J. J. Pearce, and R. L. Turner. The team finished, however, in place in district at the close of season.

Despite the lack of practice facilities, the team was still able to prove to other teams that the Smith golf team was experienced and capable of winning.

Track Team Ends Productive Year

Eight School Records Broken

The Varsity Boys Track team broke an astonishing eight school records this year as the team qualified four members for the Regional meet in Denton.

School records that were broken included the long jump, discus, shot put, 100-meter run, 300-meter intermediate hurdles, 110-meter high hurdles, 400-meter run, and 400-meter relay. Rodney Hare jumped a record distance of 22'10" in the long jump and Mike Schmitz threw a record distance of 168'3" in the discus event and of 55'1" in the shot put. Rodney Hare also set records in the 100-meter run with a time of 10.78 and in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles with a time of 39.51. Robert Smith set the school record in the 110-meter high hurdles with a time of 14.81 and Robert Hare set a record in the 400-meter run with a time of 50.71. The 400-meter relay record was also broken by Robert Hare, Robert Smith, Randy Plumlee, and Rodney Hare with a time of 42.95. Juniors Rodney Hare, Robert Smith, Eric Gale, and Mike Schmitz qualified for the Regional meet after the team placed 5th in district.

The team was blessed with overall balance in every event with a total number of 46 members. A low senior membership number of four tracksters was a setback for the team, but did not prevent the group from being the first Varsity track team to win a track meet for Newman Smith.

Track Sends Two to Regionals

Member Reaches State Meet

The Varsity Girls Track team once again added to the growing number of Newman Smith athletic achievements as the team qualified two members for the Regional meet and one member to State competition. Juniors Kristi Dubes and Roberta Willer reached regionals in the discus throw and in the high jump respectively. Kristi placed second in her event at Regionals and qualified to reach State where she finished in 8th place. Roberta also placed second in her event at Regionals, but in a two-way tie. The flip of a coin prevented her from reaching State competition once again this year where she had placed second in the high jump in last year's State competition.

The team, as a whole, finished in 3rd place in district competition. The team was made up of 28 members, 13 of whom were returning lettermen. Coach

JoAnn Spradling worked with the team and spent long hours preparing the team for weekly meets during the season. The team was particularly strong in their field events and faired well in long distance running. A growing strength, however was found in their middle distance running and spring running events. A lack of depth plagued the sprint events and also the field events, but with strong team unity, the team was able to perform very well despite their weaknesses.

With all but four members of the team being underclassmen, a strong group of girls will return next year with an even closer chance to take the district crown.

Winning Tradition Continues

Varsity Team Sweeps 2nd Half

The Varsity Baseball team again finished a very productive year; only this time, they went a step closer to State Competition. The Trojans battled their way through the second half of district to obtain a spotless 5-0 record and give them a share in the district title.

The Trojans entered the district playoffs against first-half champion Plano. The teams met to decide the District 13-AAAAA representative in the area playoffs. After leading the Wildcats with a comfortable lead, Plano turned the first game around and scored 11 runs in one inning to defeat the Trojans 15-10. The second game also proved to be a heartbreaker for the Trojans when after entering the final inning, winning 11-7, the Plano offense began to find holes in the Trojan defense. A satisfactory lead fell to an uncomfortable loss for the Trojans, 11-13.

The team was able to play well in every game because of a consistent and well-balanced team. The team was able to play at a championship level in every game and according to Head Coach Lance Brown, "... if we play well, then winning games will be a result of the quality of performance."

The year was a challenge to the team because of strong opponents, but the players continued the winning tradition that has become a lasting trademark of Trojan baseball.

J.V. Football Gains Success

Attitudes Aid Team

The J.V. football team began their second year against teams that carried the potential of becoming future state-ranked teams. Coaches Bob Hunnicutt, Gerald Keith, and Jim Gazzillo prepared the players for their expected tough competition.

"This year the J.V. team is very dedicated to ensuring success," said Kenny Durand, junior, "We do this by working real hard during practice."

The team consisted of 44 players with positive attitudes towards accomplishing their goals of being district champs. "If we played our best we could beat anyone no matter how big and fast they were. We had a positive mental attitude," commented

The team finished the season with a respectable 5-5 record by defeating Lakeview Centennial, R. L. Turner, Lake Highlands, Richardson, and Berkner. This proved to the team and others that positive Smith football was for real.

The average person just thinks volleyball is hitting the ball over the net. The game of volleyball requires much concentration and coordination. The players have to be set at all times for a back row set up or a spike. "We have to know what's legal and what's illegal," said Junior Roberta Willer.

"The team as a whole is supporting one another as much as possible," said Head Coach of Volleyball, Ruth Stovall.

J.V. Boys Team Breaks Even

Basketball Ends Season 17-17

The J.V. boys basketball team met the challenge of their schedule by performing exceptionally well against teams that all had winning seasons from the year before. Coach Rick Flanagan provided the support the team needed to accomplish a record of 17-17. Goals of the team were to hold opponents to less than 52 points and to win all home games. The team toiled through the season striving to find success.

The team consisted of 11 members. Shooting and ball-handling were faults the team was aggravated with throughout the year.

"We tried to create a winning attitude. We played every game to the last second," commented sophomore John Drew. With the close of the year, a foresight of success was evident for the future of the players.

"The girls are at the learning situation of the program," commented Coach Spain. To get a head start on next year, the J.V. Girls had already begun preparation.

Competition and Recreation

Students Find New Kinds of Fun

Students were offered many different choices of sports to participate in, but many chose to use their athletic abilities outside of school for entertainment. These students chose to perform to the best of their capabilities through hard competition and dangerous recreational activities. They participated in sports such as motocross, rodeo, horseback riding, and skiing.

Rodeo has been a long-time favorite sport in the state of Texas. There are some students who dream of becoming rodeo professionals. Junior Martin Graham was one of these students. "Rodeo has been in my blood since I was a little boy. I had my chance to ride and I did. Today I can't stop myself." Martin competes almost weekly in local rodeos and hopes to become one of the best in the sport.

Horseback riding has also become a very popular pastime with students. Freshman Linda Turrichi began to ride horses at the age of seven because of no other choices. "I continue to ride horses rather than participate in school sports because it requires a unique combination of concentration and coordination. Riding also goes a little beyond just a sport because when you're not riding, your horse is your pet." The popularity of this sport is at all times growing with students.

Skiing has probably become the all-time favorite recreational sport among students. Most students spend their winter and summer vacations wandering off to ski resorts or area lakes to have a good time along with a few bruises. Junior Johnny Sitton was one of many students who enjoyed endangering their lives water skiing and snow skiing. "I do it because it's fun, exciting, and competitive. When I'm skiing I can't think of anything else." Students are still finding new ways of enjoying themselves without school.

Youthful J.V.

Team Grows Up

The Junior Varsity Boys Soccer team began the season with very little experience at high school level soccer because the team was mainly comprised of freshmen. Other than inexperience, the young team had to compete against other teams that were made up of mostly sophomores and juniors. The team found itself in a very strong district with a weakness in their defense. The exceptional play of Derek Shipman and Ray Aranowitz, however, aided the team greatly as they continued to compete against larger teams from area schools such as Denton and Sherman and other district schools. Coach Don Burrell headed the team and worked with them constantly to improve and build good defensive and offensive techniques.

Handles Foes

The Junior Varsity Girls Soccer team's will to win allowed the girls to defeat some very strong rivals from the area. The girls ended the season with a 3-4 record, but defeated both R. L.

Turner and Lewisville in shutout victories. The team, however, suffered two shutout defeats themselves from Plano and Richardson.

The team lacked maturity in the sport because of youth, but their abilities to play well together benefited the team. The girls' attitudes throughout the year were positive as was taken from Coach Susan Seibel's comment on the team's opponents. "They're tough, but we can handle them."

New J.V. Coach

Team Ends 15-9

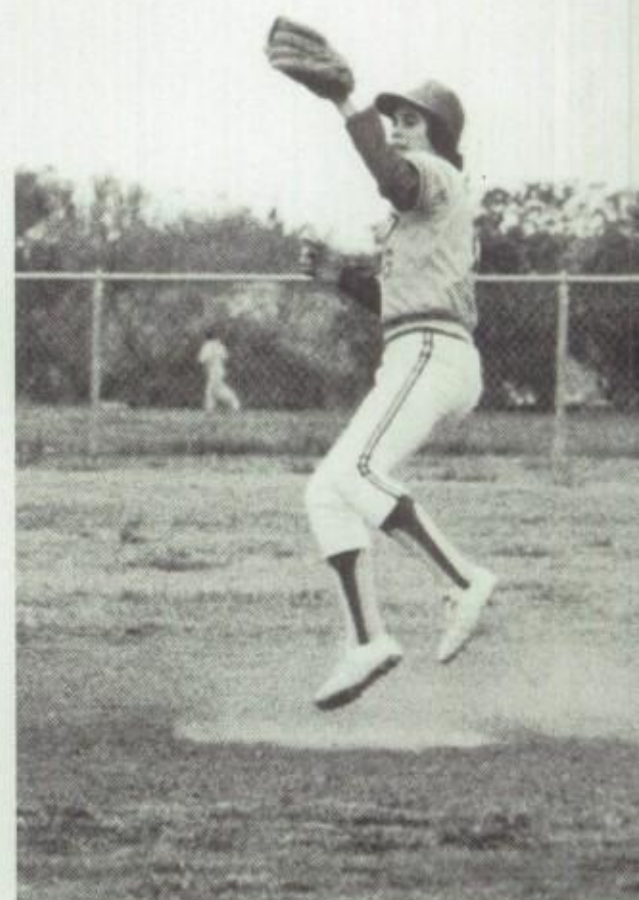

The Junior Varsity Baseball team worked through another tough season, but with a new coach. Coach Richard Valenta started his first year on the Newman Smith coaching staff and helped guide the team to a 15-9 season finish.

The team included 16 members that were of above average speed, but at an average pace in fielding and pitching.

The team finished the season with some victories over such schools as Lake Highlands and Irving MacArthur that added much needed experience to the group. The added experience should prove to be a vital factor in next year's varsity district races.

Tough Opponents

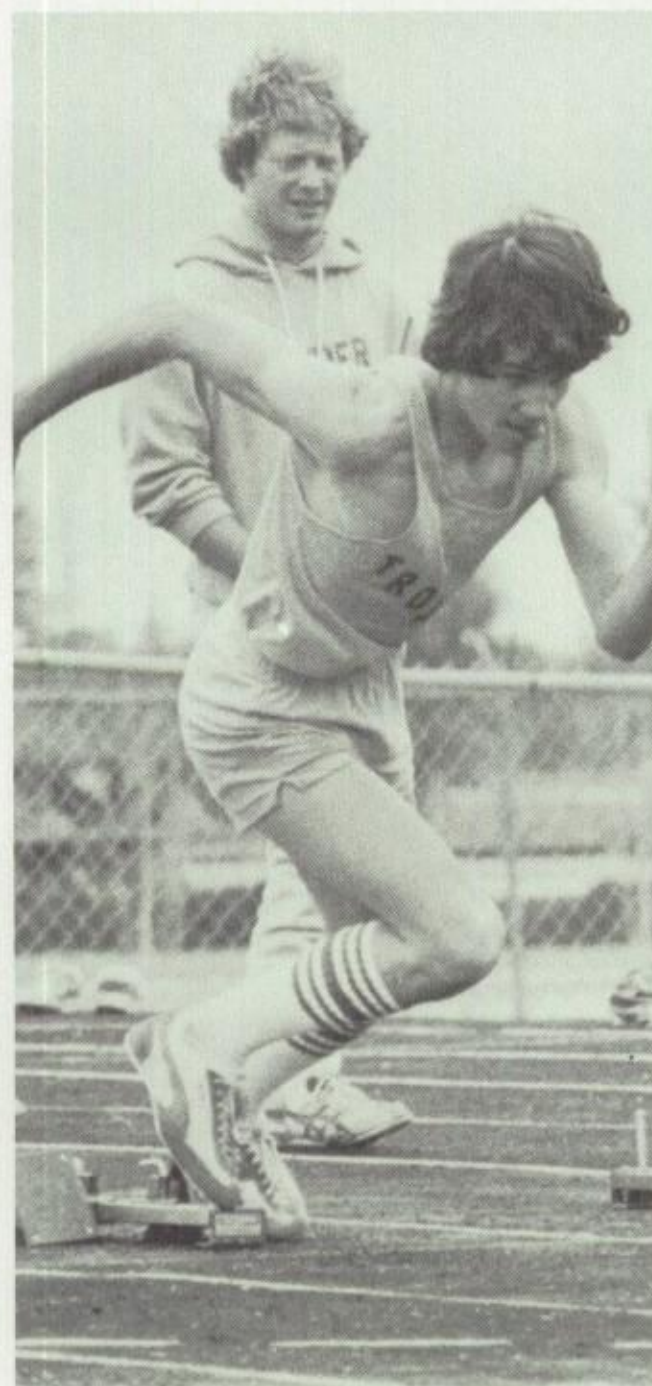

J.V. Runs Hard

The Junior Varsity Boys Track team competed this year in meets that included strong area teams. The team finished high in meets at Duncanville and Lewisville with a 2nd and 3rd place finish respectively. The team consisted of 31 members with strengths in the shot put and discus events. "The team improved over the year and should make a major contribution to the varsity team next year," commented Coach Charles Quisenberry.

Frosh Finish Best Season

End Season With 6-2-1 Mark

The Freshman football team comes through to the end with a season record of 6-2-1. "The most vital part of the team is the offense," said freshman head coach Mike Stewart. Coach Stewart was backed up by the coaching staff of Coach Richard Valenta, Coach Don Burrell, and Coach Fred Howard, who helped with the B team. "The offense maintained the ball throughout the game which helped a lot."

"After a three hour and five minute workout we are ready to go home and relax," said many of the team players.

Frosh Show High Skill

Attitude Helps Team

The Freshman Volleyball team began their initial season on high school level with overwhelming success by ending their season undefeated with a 12-0 record. "The girls had a high skill level of the game," said Coach Susan Seibel, the team's only coach.

The team consisted of 20 players that worked out early in the morning with very positive attitudes. "I think the team has a spirited, winning attitude," said Becky Brewer. "Many are very dedicated to working hard," commented Coach Seibel, "and this helped them tremendously this year." Through all their hard work and determination, the girls proved that they were ready to take on the competition of years to come.

Boys Develop Team Pride

Determination Helps Goal

"Let's be aggressive," is a statement said many times by coaches, Jim Gazzillo and Keith Gerald. These coaches had the opportunities to coach the Freshman Boys Basketball. The team consisted of twenty-four Freshmen. "The team didn't have much size this year, but that didn't hurt our season," Coach Keith said. The Freshmen along with the Varsity Girls Basketball Team have set the same goal to develop more pride and determination. Along with their goal some of the players said, "They were out there just to have fun."

Freshmen Win When It Counts

Two Victories Over Turner

The Freshman Girls Basketball team found out their year was more than the record shows. The girls boasted a 2-record shows. The girls boasted a 12-0 record, and two wins were victories over R. L. Turner. The team coached by Ruth Stovall.

The girls found a weakness in ball-handling and passing, but found strengths inside their shooting abilities.

The team found their toughest opponents from the schools in Lewisville. "We were disciplined real well throughout the season, but occasionally our attitudes differed in each game," said Jennifer Mahon. The girls played each of their games to the best of their abilities with hopes of perfecting their talents.

Frosh Mature Coaches Aid Team

The Freshman Track had a very good season with the help of Coaches Dennis Lemmons, Mike Stuart, Charles Quisenberry, and JoAnn Spradling. The tracksters worked hard during the year to improve their capabilities in every event. Several freshmen were allowed to move up to the junior varsity level after the season was well underway.

At the completion of the year, the boys and girls teams ended their seasons with a feeling of success and inspiring talent that will not only be a gift to them, but also to Newman Smith.

CLUBS

Cheerleaders Boost Trojan Pride

Excel in Summer Camps

Life as a Varsity Cheerleader was not all glamour and games. Summer workouts for six to nine hours a week and community service projects kept life moving at a hectic pace. Summer camps at SMU and at NTSU proved that all of the work was for a good cause. The squad placed in the Award of Excellence at both camps, marking the second time for our cheerleaders to receive this honor. Competition was attended at the Cotton Bowl and the Varsity Cheerleaders were rated superior.

Head Cheerleader is a special honor in that she is chosen by the Varsity Cheerleading squad and Mrs. Willis, the sponsor. Cathy Moore proved herself in this role, bringing everyone together in an effort to reach a common goal. This unity developed dedication, enthusiasm, and created friendships which will last a lifetime.

Besides cheering for the football team, the Varsity Cheerleaders also attended Volleyball, Basketball, Wrestling, Soccer, and Baseball games.

Squads Determined and Spirited

J.V. and Frosh Win Spirit Sticks

Determination would best describe the freshman and J.V. cheerleaders as they strove for excellence when they competed at Texas Stadium. The freshman cheerleaders rated superior in their division and received a spirit stick, while the J.V. girls were awarded top squad and also received a spirit stick. In addition, these two groups attended camp at SMU. The J.V. group earned all superior ratings at this event, while the frosh squad rated all superior and received a spirit stick.

These girls worked extremely hard in an effort to improve their own personal skills and strengths. Each had a dream about a goal she wished to reach in the future. For some, this dream was to hold a position on the Varsity cheerleading squad. For most, their dreams will one day be reality.

1981-82 Award-Winning Troyanns

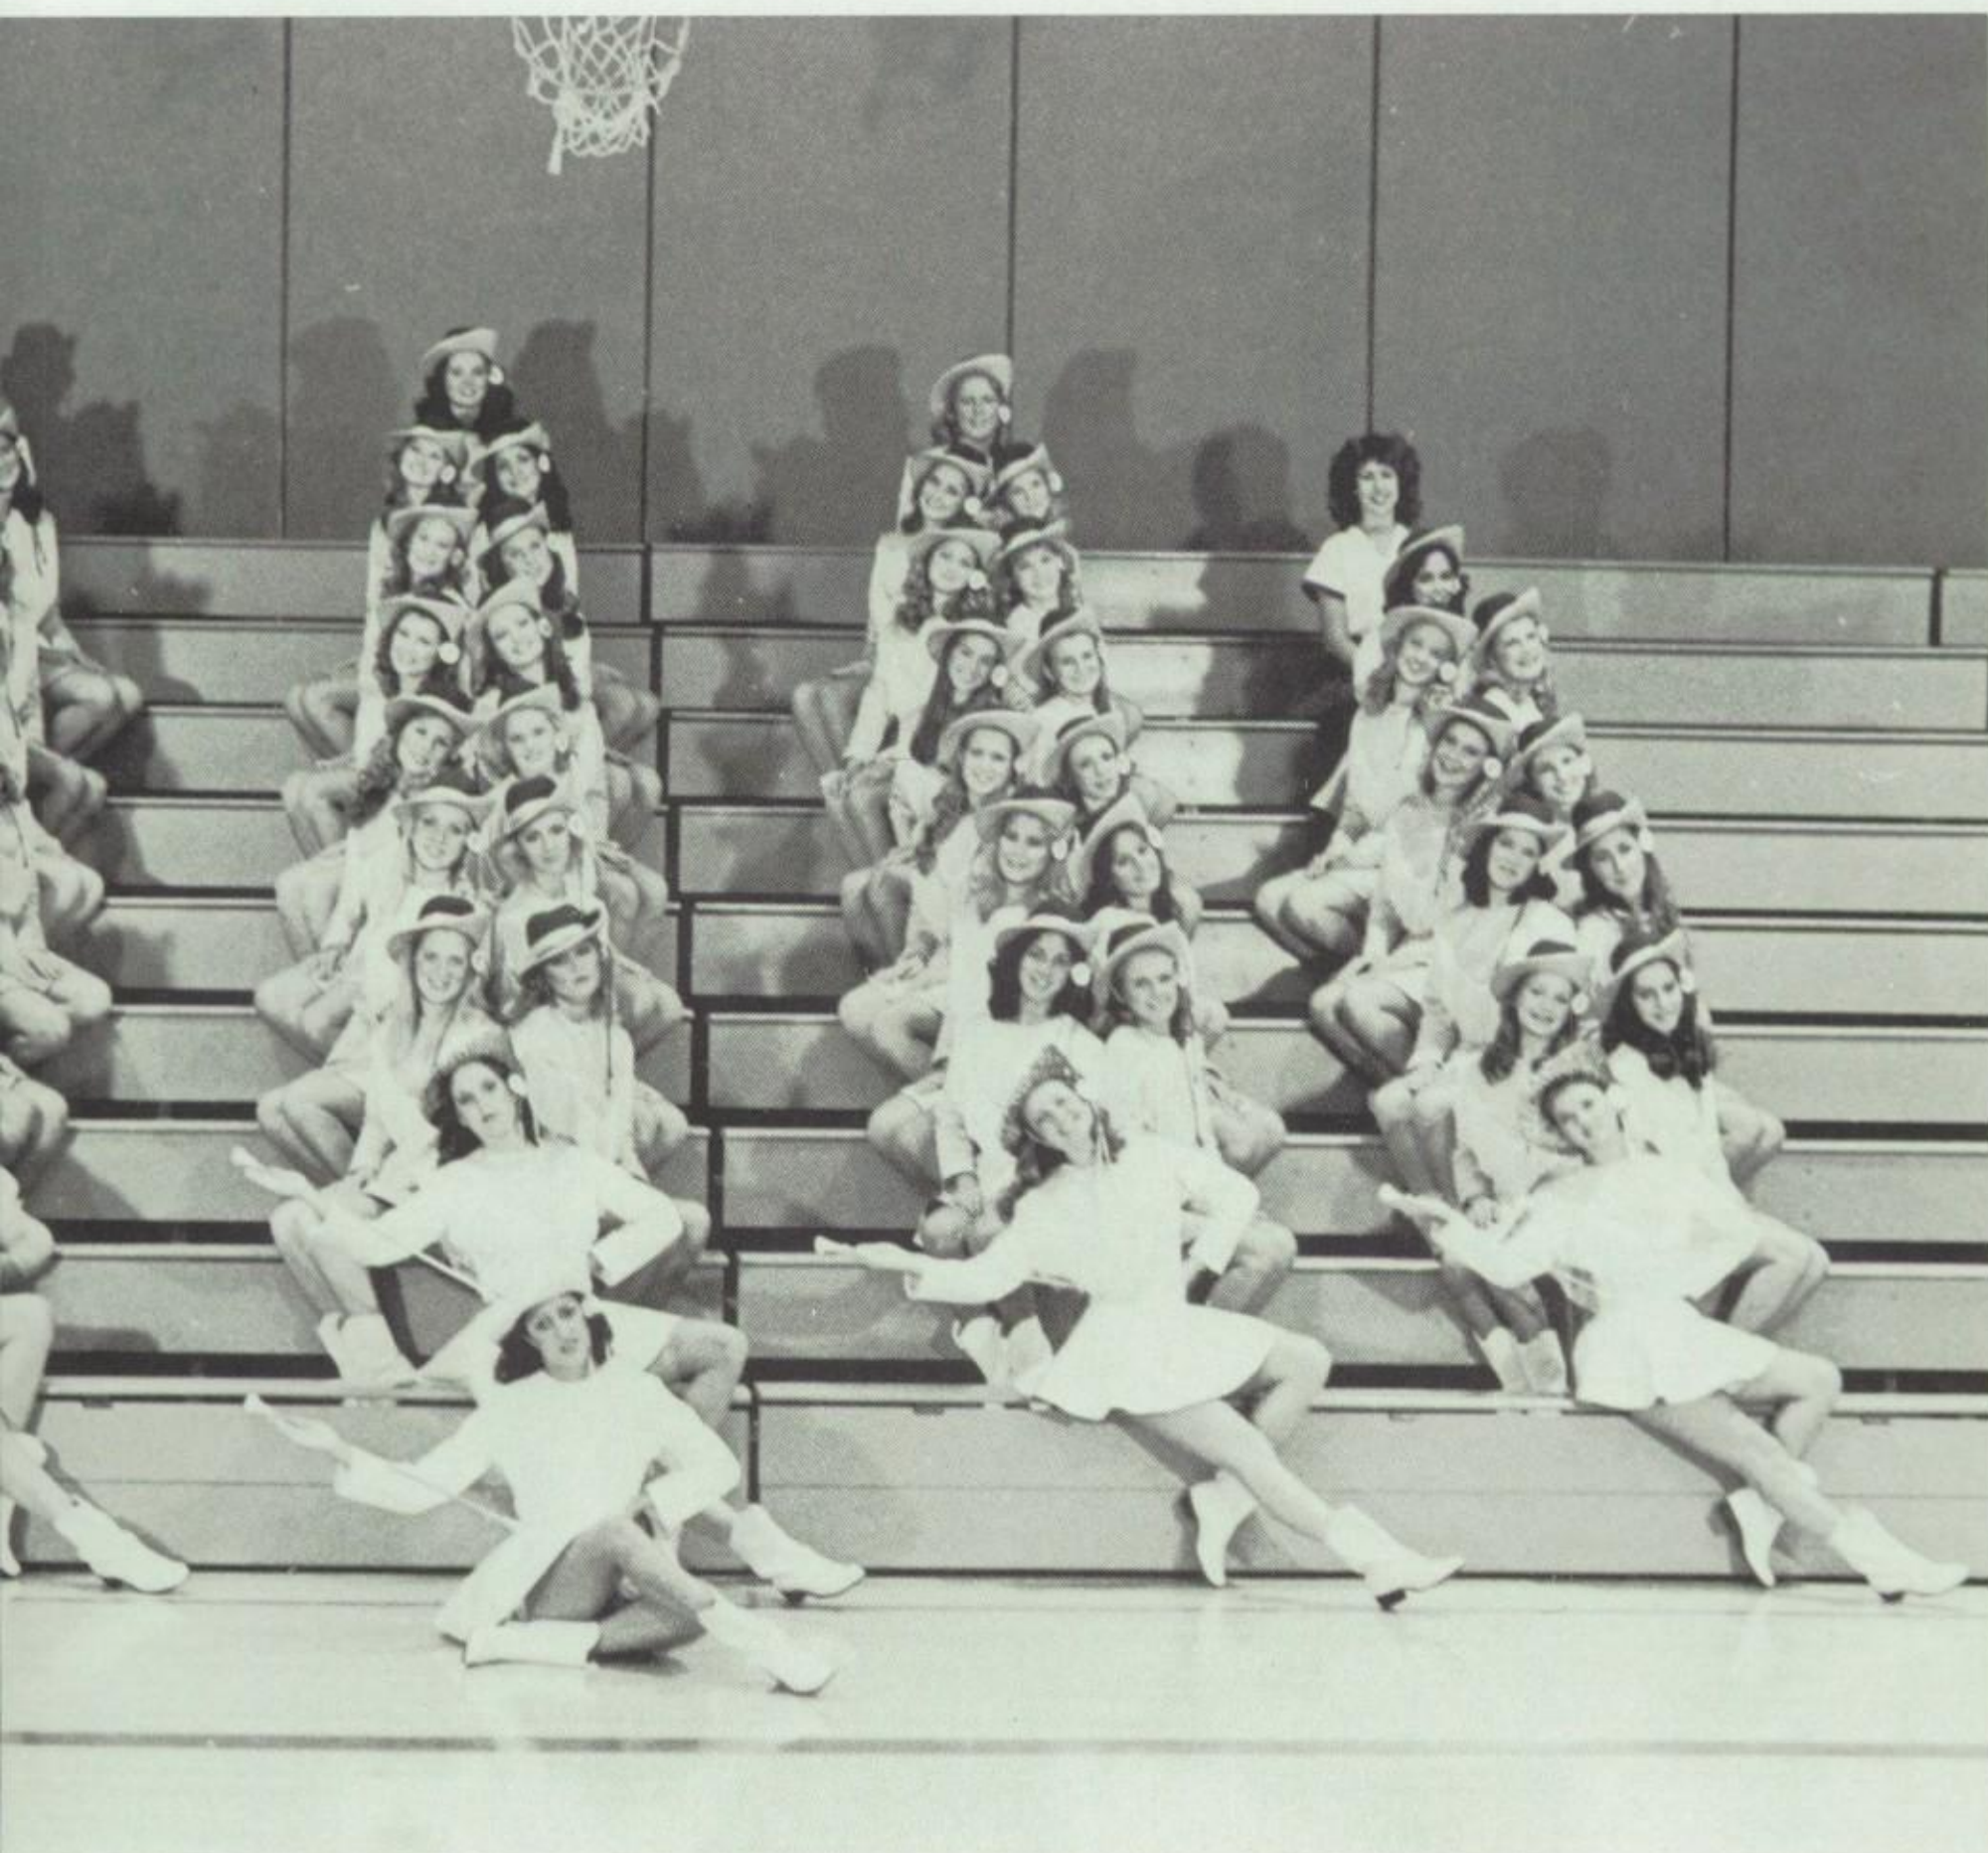

Busy, Fun Season

Nervous with anticipation and sore from the many days of rehearsals, the gym full of girls eagerly awaited the announcement of the coming year's Troyanns. These newly selected 1981-82 Troyanns were just beginning to realize the work (and the fun!) that was ahead of them. The first to begin preparing for the upcoming season were the officers; they participated in the United Spirit Association Camp at North Texas State University where they were sent to sweepstakes. Three Troyann officers were honored at the camp. Sharon Stotts, 1st Lieutenant, was a candidate for Miss Supersensational; Cindy Denson, Jr. Lieutenant, was a semi-finalist; and Toni Guevara, captain, was a finalist. During this time, the entire Troyann line performed for the Tenth Anniversary of Southwest Airlines at Love Field.

The Troyanns then took part in the June 22-26 SMU Superstar Drill Team Camp. Once again they took sweepstakes, along with a superior rating in the home-competition routine. Maureen Boyd was named a Drill-Down winner out of a possible 1100 girls and Toni Guevara's dancing ability earned her the title of Superstar Girl. The entire squad was awarded a spirit pom for their outstanding enthusiasm, discipline, and cooperation. Once the school year began, there were early morning practices and sometimes even earlier surprise kidnappings of Little Sisters for breakfast at IHOP. Along with this there were also afternoon line rehearsals to attend.

This continuous effort and dedication indeed proved to bring much satisfaction to the Troyanns when they were able to perform in such events as the Parade of Champions and the County Fair. They were also invited to be in the Miss Texas Drill Team Contest at the Dallas Convention Center as well as to dance at the grand opening of the Trinity Valley Shopping Center. The Troyanns concluded their year in March with the Fantastic Finale.

Pep Club, Flag-Corps, Twirlers

Add Entertainment to Halftime

Hand routines and yelling cheers at both football games and pep rallies were all a part of being a member of the Pep Club. Once the football season ended, partner stunts, stretching, kicking, gymnastics, and dance routines were also introduced to the Club.

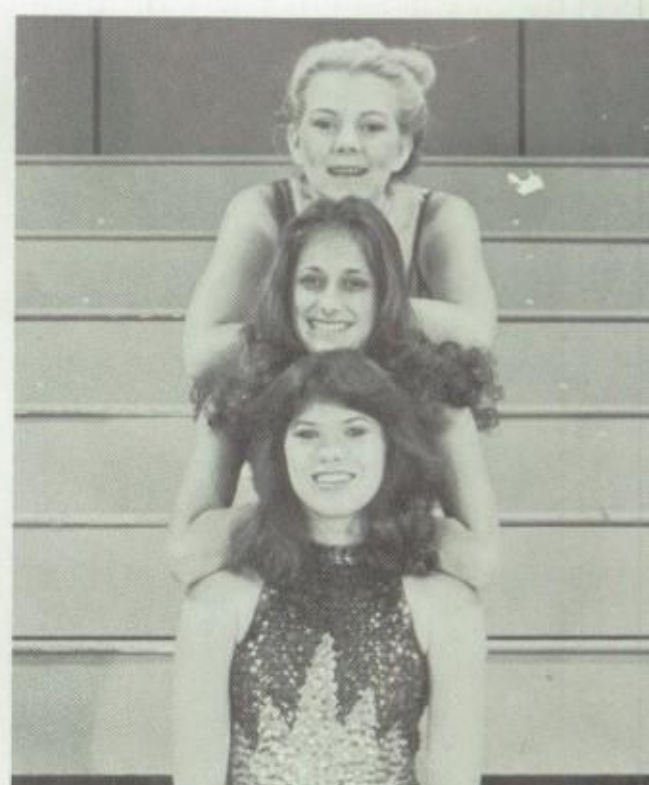

The Trojan Flag-Corps, after attending a one-week flag camp, prepared routines for pep rallies, halftime performances, and individual-type standing routines. They practiced as a part of the band every morning from 7-9 and had afternoon rehearsals at least two or three times a week, as did the twirlers.

The Twirlers, led by senior Jill Schneberger, (in her second year as feature twirler) also performed with the band. Both the Flag-Corps and the twirlers participated in the Parade of Champions.

Trojan Marching Band Shows Pride

Summer Practices Lead to Success

Pride! That's the word to describe the Trojan Band. It's a pride that began August 3rd with daily 7:30-11:00am practices, with work being done on marching fundamentals and the new season's football music. Once the school year started, schedules became even more intense, with early morning and after school rehearsals and sectionals continuing along with classes and other activities.

Confirmation of this hard work was seen in many ways though: the Band received a score of 388 out of a possible 500 points at the State Fair Parade of Champions; they received a 1st Division rating in the UIL Marching Contest; four members of the Band were named to the All-Region Jazz Band (Tiffany Smith on the drum set, Andy Abbott and Marty Hammond both on the trombone, and Tad Preston on the trumpet); and Andy Abbott was nominated for the McDonald's All-American High School Band. Along with these accomplishments, the Band also enlivened all pep rallies and football games with their music and enthusiasm. Mr. Bohls, Band Director, summed it up when he stated, "It takes a whole lot of time from their schedule to do all of the things we ask them to do. We work from the aspect of pride. If they're not proud, no one else will be."

Symphonic and Concert Bands

Work for Contests and Spring Trip

Once the marching season came to an end, Band members began preparing for Symphonic and Concert Band tryouts. Much work went into the audition: participants were judged on their ability to play six scales from memory as well as both a slow and fast etude. The auditions themselves were November 16-17 with a second tryout January 7-8. Section rehearsals were mandatory and allowed them to work on such things as tone quality and rhythm. This dedication, as in marching band, proved worthwhile when both bands performed in the Christmas Concert December 17 and when they entered the Solo and Ensemble Contest as well as the UIL Contest. They also went on their annual spring trip.

Competition Is Successful

Eight Region XX Qualifiers

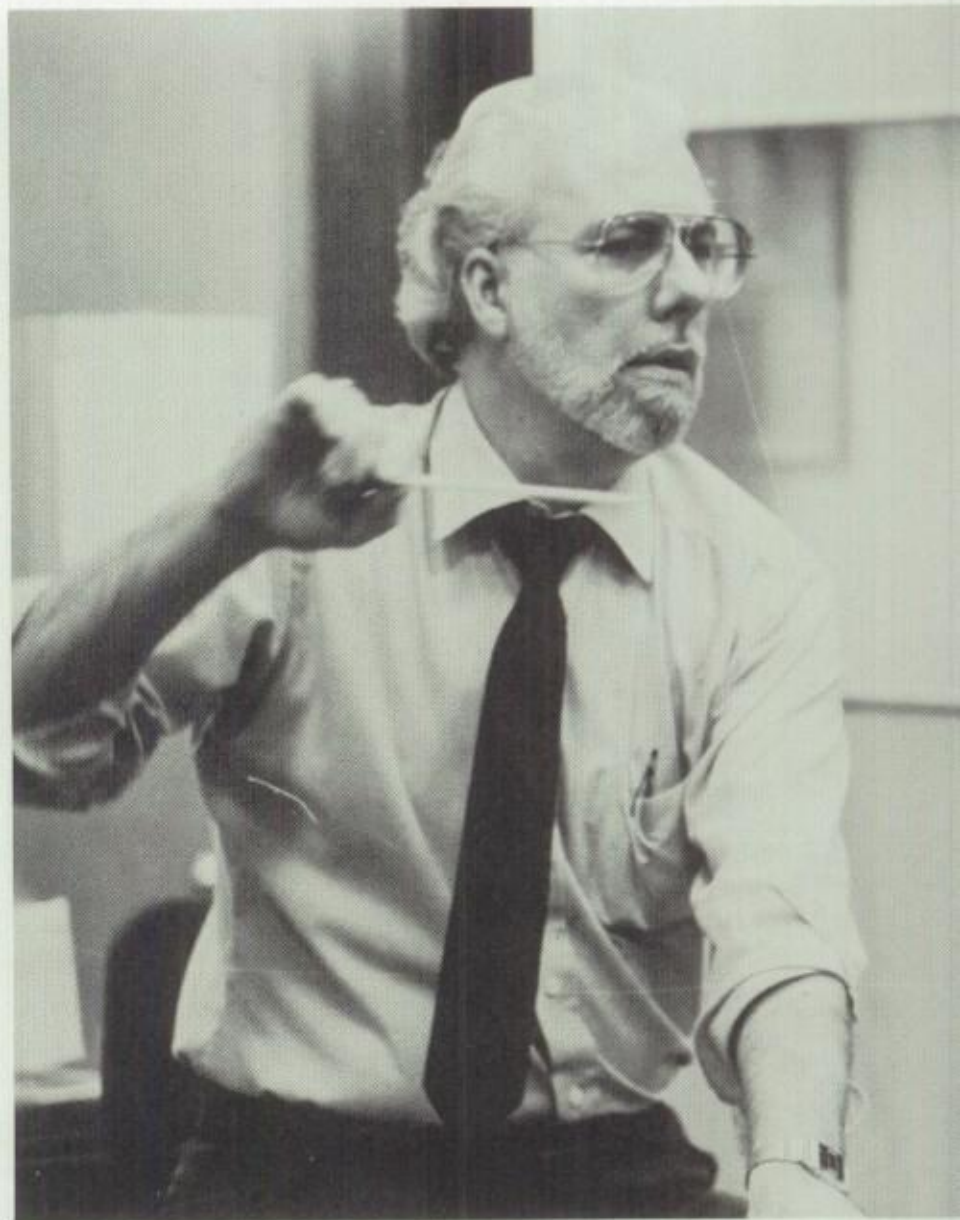

Orchestra members come in and set up chairs and stands. As the students open their folders of music, several begin to tune their instruments. While one runs through a quick scale, another plays a short piece from an already learned melody; even more of the students isolate a particular part of the new music which might give them trouble and work on that. It is this daily routine which begins rehearsal for the symphonic and concert orchestras.

This practice, though, was indeed revealed throughout the year in several of the orchestra's endeavors. Eight members qualified for Region XX: Elham Taeed, John Smith, Janet Mailloux, Patricia Price, LeAnne Jennings, Michael Perdue, Tracy Sons, and Sheeba Johnson.

The Christmas Concert was Dec. 15th, UIL Solo and Ensemble took place Feb. 27th, with the Fine Arts Review taking place shortly afterwards. The orchestra brought this busy year to a close with the May 20th Spring Concert.

Choirs Host Concerts,

Win Under New Director

Enthusiastic, hard-working, and top-notch are all words which describe our choirs. Under a new director they received awards for nearly every competition attended, and held two highly successful concerts. "I think the thing that impressed me here is the ability of the kids to work under a new director," stated Mr. Hood, director.

The A Capella choir acted as hosts for all-regional competition and also received a "one" in concert. This was the first time for our choir to receive this honor. A Capella members joined with members of the RLT choir for a fall concert. In addition, Serendipity, Women's, and Barbershop choirs joined A Capella for a Christmas festival and for a dessert concert in conjunction with the orchestra in spring.

Proceeds from the concerts went toward paying for competition in Carlsbad, White Sands, and Ruidoso. Mr. Hood, director, said, "The year has been a very successful year, and a pleasant year."

The Barbershop choir, which was formed at the beginning of the second semester, placed in competition with only five weeks of singing practice. The fact that the competition was iced-out for two weeks failed to deter them from winning a three in both concert and sight reading.

Speech, Theatre Excel in Contest

Colorful Shows Highlight Season

"A Colorful Comedy," "Pippin," "A Velveteen Rabbit," and "The Runner Stumbles." These were but a few of the Speech and Theatre Arts Department's major undertakings. "The Runner Stumbles" won zone, district, area, and was an alternate at region. Best actor or actress was awarded at every level and all other speaking parts were also recognized at some time.

The squad also brought home 5 1st place sweepstakes and 2 2nd place sweepstakes from tournaments. Several were recognized at state: John Wilson (4th, Dramatic Interp.) and Tiffany Tweedle and Troy Wharton (5th, Duet Acting). Tracey Haley was sent to state in Informative Speaking, and Lisa Warner went in Prose Interp.

Art Society and Photographers,

Picture Perfect In Every Way

CLICK . . . WIND . . . CLICK . . .

WIND . . . These sounds may seem strange to some, but they are music to a photographer's ears. Yearbook and newspaper photographers learned what work meant as they raced for deadlines, traveled to strange, far-off places, and gave of their own time for both publications. Sporting events, group pictures, banquets, parties and club meetings began to highlight each photographer's evenings and weekends. All of this work did not go to waste, as Jim Sigmon, Head Photographer, received 9 awards at state competition, and was awarded "Most Valuable Staff Member" by the Dallas Times Herald.

Art Society members visited many local artists this year in order to observe their techniques and maybe to improve their style at the same time. Visits included a stop at the Bird Nest, where Ms. Grimmer demonstrated her bird carvings, and to The Old Craft Store for a class on pastel portraits.

Iliad Staff Strives for the Best

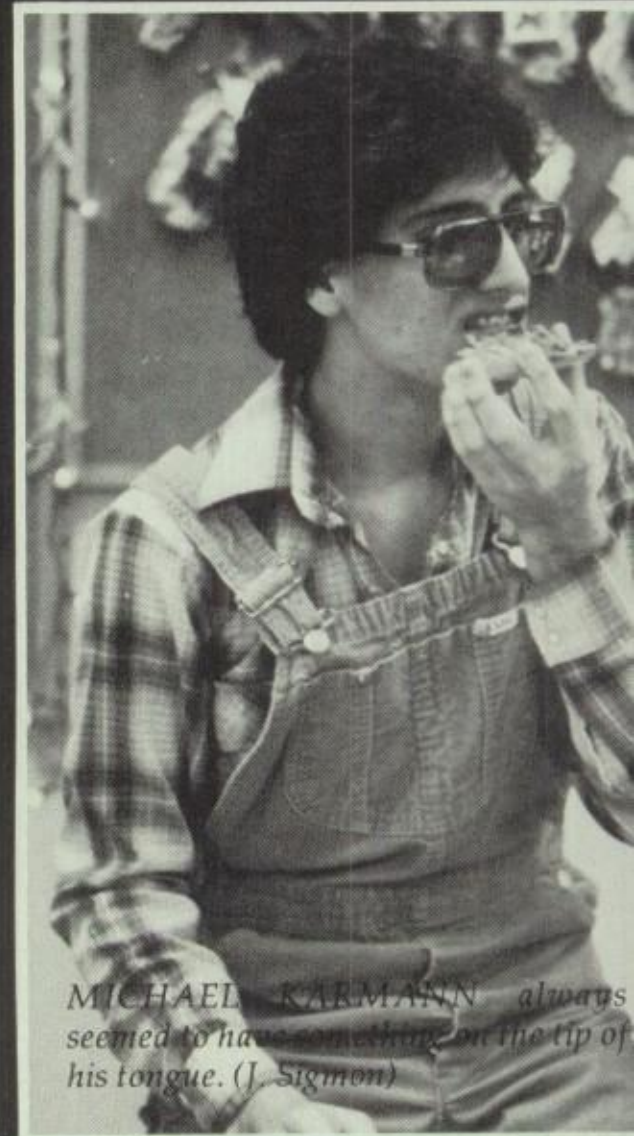

Creative Talents Merge in Book

Definition: Iliad Staff — A group of hard-working, energetic, and noisy people, dedicated to producing the biggest and best yearbook in the school's history.

Definition: Hard-working, energetic, and noisy — Aw, come-on, give us a break. So what if we celebrated nineteen birthdays, two holidays, and one going-away? We still managed to be on time for every deadline, to stay consistent with the theme, and best of all, to remain on speaking terms with each other all year long.

The year started off early for the Iliad staff with a summer camp at Southern Methodist University. It was there that the theme, cover design, size and style of the book were decided upon. Preliminary outlines, or ladders, of each section were made, and new staffs were given their first chances to work together.

The staff was not exempt from the sales and distribution routine this year, as we joined many other clubs in the endeavor to make the world sick of M&Ms. (cont.)

REACHING FOR THE TOP

Yearbook sales and picture distribution, retakes, and redistribution highlighted many lunch periods as staff members mastered the phrase, "What grade did you say you are in?"

Between fund raising activities and distributing pictures (and just a few forms to the teachers), the staff put together the school's first summer yearbook. Four major deadlines during the year gave staff members plenty of time to put their creative talents to work. An autograph section was distributed to the students at the end of the year. This helped to calm the natives who were eager to get their yearbooks.

Odyssey Changes Face

Odyssey members made every effort to create an excellent news magazine this year. Staff members were placed in the position of editor for one issue. This gave everyone a chance to show the school what he or she had learned in their position on staff.

Issues differed immensely from month to month and clearly displayed the diversity of talent and creativity within the group. Controversial subjects such as drugs and alcohol were discussed, along with articles which seemed to touch home for many students. Rock concerts, fashions, movies, and even the trials and tribulations of toiletries, or toilet papering a home or car, were discussed.

With an increase in the size of the "Odyssey," staff members were forced to look for many new topics and much more work was required than in some of the years past. This school year was overall one of the best years for the "Odyssey," with increased size, greater diversity of stories, and leadership not by one, but by all.

WANTED : LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Odyssey Staff needs a few good men and women to send signed letters to the editor, those who answer the add will be highly revered.

Upperclass Activities

Students Work to Achieve

Reaching for the top — this phrase indeed epitomized all classes. Executive Committee members led the way with their enthusiasm and knack for organizing. The Senior Executive Committee was in charge of the Homecoming Parade and dance as well as ice and roller skating parties. In addition to these activities, the Senior Class participated in the sale of magazines and mugs. The money earned was spent on a variety of activities which included the Senior awards assembly and luncheon, an end of the year party, a school gift, and of course graduation ceremonies (at NTSU coliseum).

The Junior Class kept as busy as the seniors. The Junior Class also sold many items in an effort to raise money. But whereas the Senior Class set aside most of its money for graduation ceremonies, the juniors saved for the Prom. They sold spirit ribbons and buttons during football season. They also sold gold and green balloons which were released in a spectacular display at the Turner game. In addition, members peddled M&M's and even had a cupcake booth in the Country Fair. The Powder Puff football game (played April 8th) rounded out the year's fund-raising activities.

Classes Raise Money

Link Future to Present

"Class" would perhaps best describe the Sophomore Executive Committee. The year started off with a bang as committee members participated in the Homecoming Parade. The float consisted of sophomore girls clad in football jerseys, arranged on a football field. With a first place trophy under their belt for their float entry, the members proceeded to enter the stocking contest, winning "Most Beautiful" for the class. Spring activities included the traditional slave auction and spring dance. "They are a hard working bunch of kids . . . real enthusiastic," stated Mrs. Willis, sponsor.

"MUM" was the word when Freshman Executive Committee members sold flowers for homecoming week. Proceeds from the sales funded a Christmas social for Manor Nursing Home. Each resident at the home was given a carnation bouquet with cake accompanied by Christmas carols. Santa Claus also made an appearance in the form of Felix Curbello. Other functions during the year included a float in the Homecoming Parade and the selection of the official class t-shirt.

Aggie Club was a means of communication between Texas A&M and its potential students. Meetings only took place when new information was available from the school. "I'd like to see other teachers start others," said Mrs. Douphrate.

Senators Sponsor Blood Drive

Whiz Quiz Prepares for Meets

"Mark Twain published his famous story of the jumping frog, the Thirteenth Amendment was adopted, and Lincoln was shot. What year was it?" . . . From which of Shakespeare's plays is the following taken;

'All the world's a stage'?

Being able to quickly and correctly answer questions such as these was what Whiz Quiz kids aimed for. Members of the team practiced once a week, but also studied current events and did much outside reading on their own time. Participants scrimmaged other schools and also faculty members in preparation for meets. This dedication proved worthwhile in the team's sweeping win over Irving High School. The squad was defeated at their next meet however, and thus eliminated for the rest of the year. Competitions were at Dallas Baptist College and were aired on KERA and WFAA.

The school government, consisting of eight representatives from each class, periodically met to discuss school matters.

"They are a group of students concerned about school life and activities. The Senate gives them the opportunity to discuss school things and air complaints to the administration," said Mrs. Taylor, Senate sponsor. She added, "They learn good government and how to interact with people, as well as parliamentary procedure."

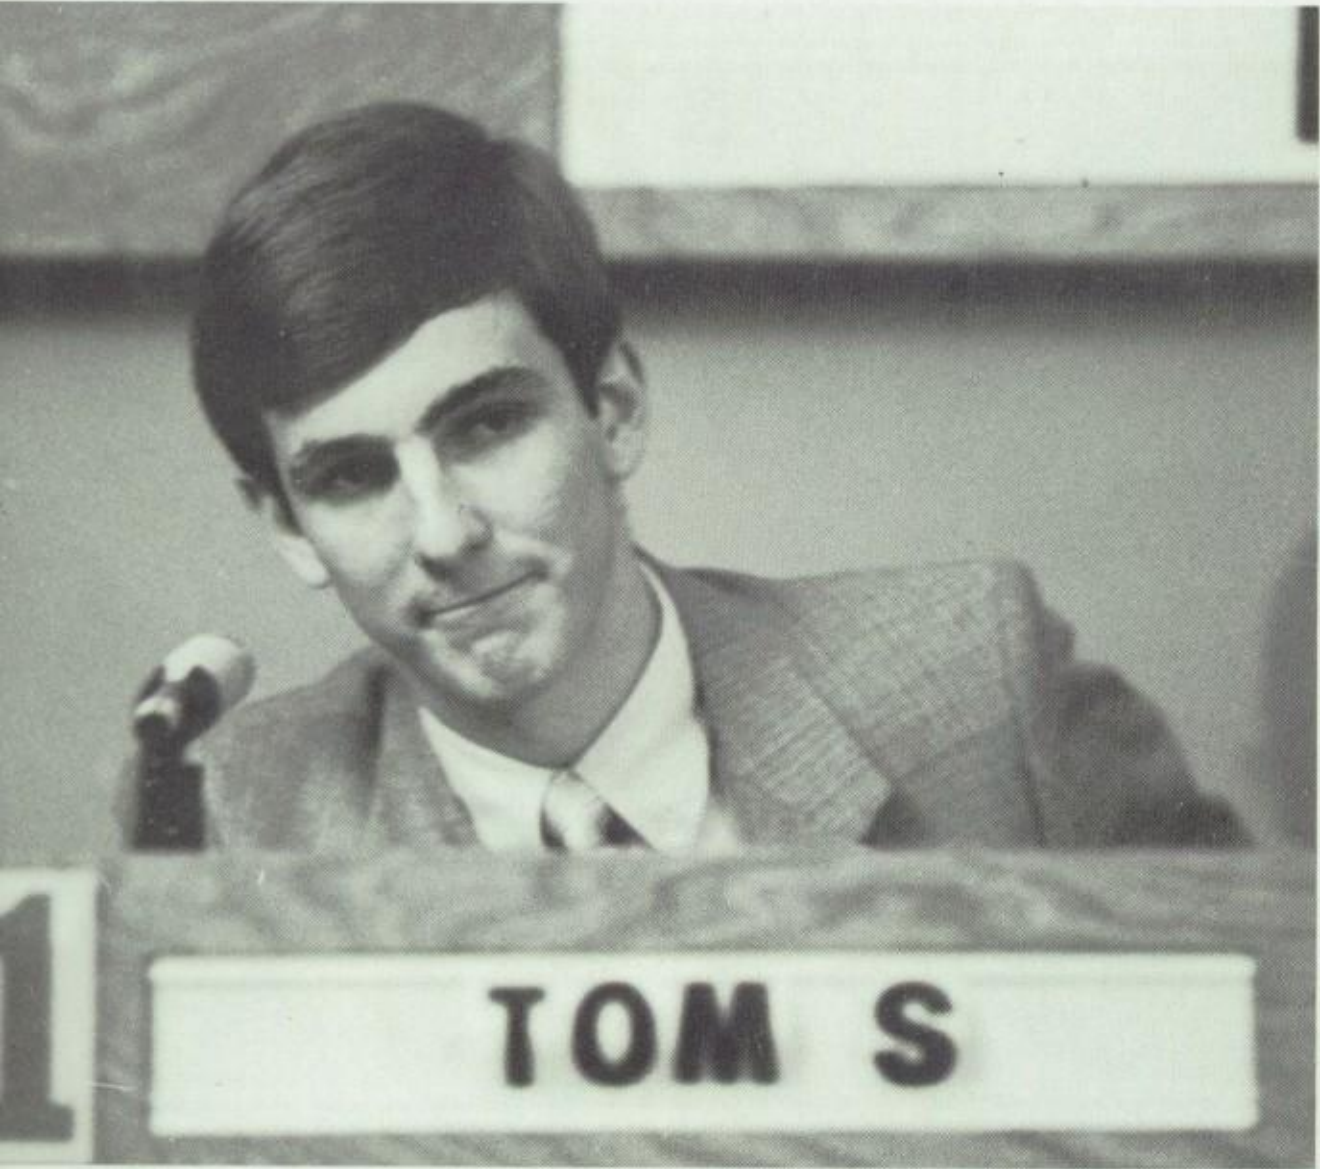

During 1981-82, the Senate purchased a Christmas tree for the school and sponsored Toys for Tots. Senators also publicized and sponsored the annual Blood Drive February 10th, with over 100 pints being donated by the student body and faculty. Members also tended to such business as registering voters, reading the morning announcements, and continuing the "buddy system" of showing new students around school.

Student Honors Togas, Parties

Clubs Initiate Newest Members

lood oaths on pledge promises and Christmas carols sung in Latin spelled initiation time for new members of the Latin Club. Initiates and familiar faces alike took part in a Christmas party toga style this year with turkey and gifts to boot.

Funds for the joint NSHS/RLT party were raised in bake sales held during the fall.

Members also attended a banquet in the spring. Each had to appear as a mythological god or goddess for the function. The Latin Club is unique in that it holds members from both Newman Smith and Turner. "We don't have many meetings during football season for this reason," said Mrs. Baxtor, sponsor.

he purpose of the National Honor Society is to recognize honor students scholastically, for leadership qualities, and for character. Activities throughout the year included sales of Smithmas cards and tutoring.

Smithmas Cards were sold the week before Christmas. The proceeds were set aside for school service projects. NHS members provided a voluntary tutoring service in the library for all students who needed help. Lists of courses in which aid was offered were made available to all teachers and students.

Induction ceremonies were held each semester in order to allow qualified students to enter the organization. According to Mrs. Strickland, sponsor, this was one of the best groups that she has led in the society at Smith. "They are a tribute to the organization. They are what it stands for."

Clubs Observe Cultures

French and Spanish Unite

In order to become more knowledgeable about and appreciative of their perspective cultures, many students joined the Spanish and French Clubs. Activities often included guest lecturers, films, participation in cultural activities, or field trips to conventions and local areas of interest.

These groups both participated in the Country Fair. The French Club sold helium balloons and bookworms while the Spanish Club had their traditional Ramp Ball game. The proceeds from these activities, in addition to the sale of candy by the Spanish Club, enabled both groups to participate in more events outside of school.

The Spanish Club received the winning trophy in the first annual Pumpkin Carving Contest. The entry consisted of Cinderella's Coach complete with horses. The French Club won an honorable mention for their pumpkin carved as a French Cafe.

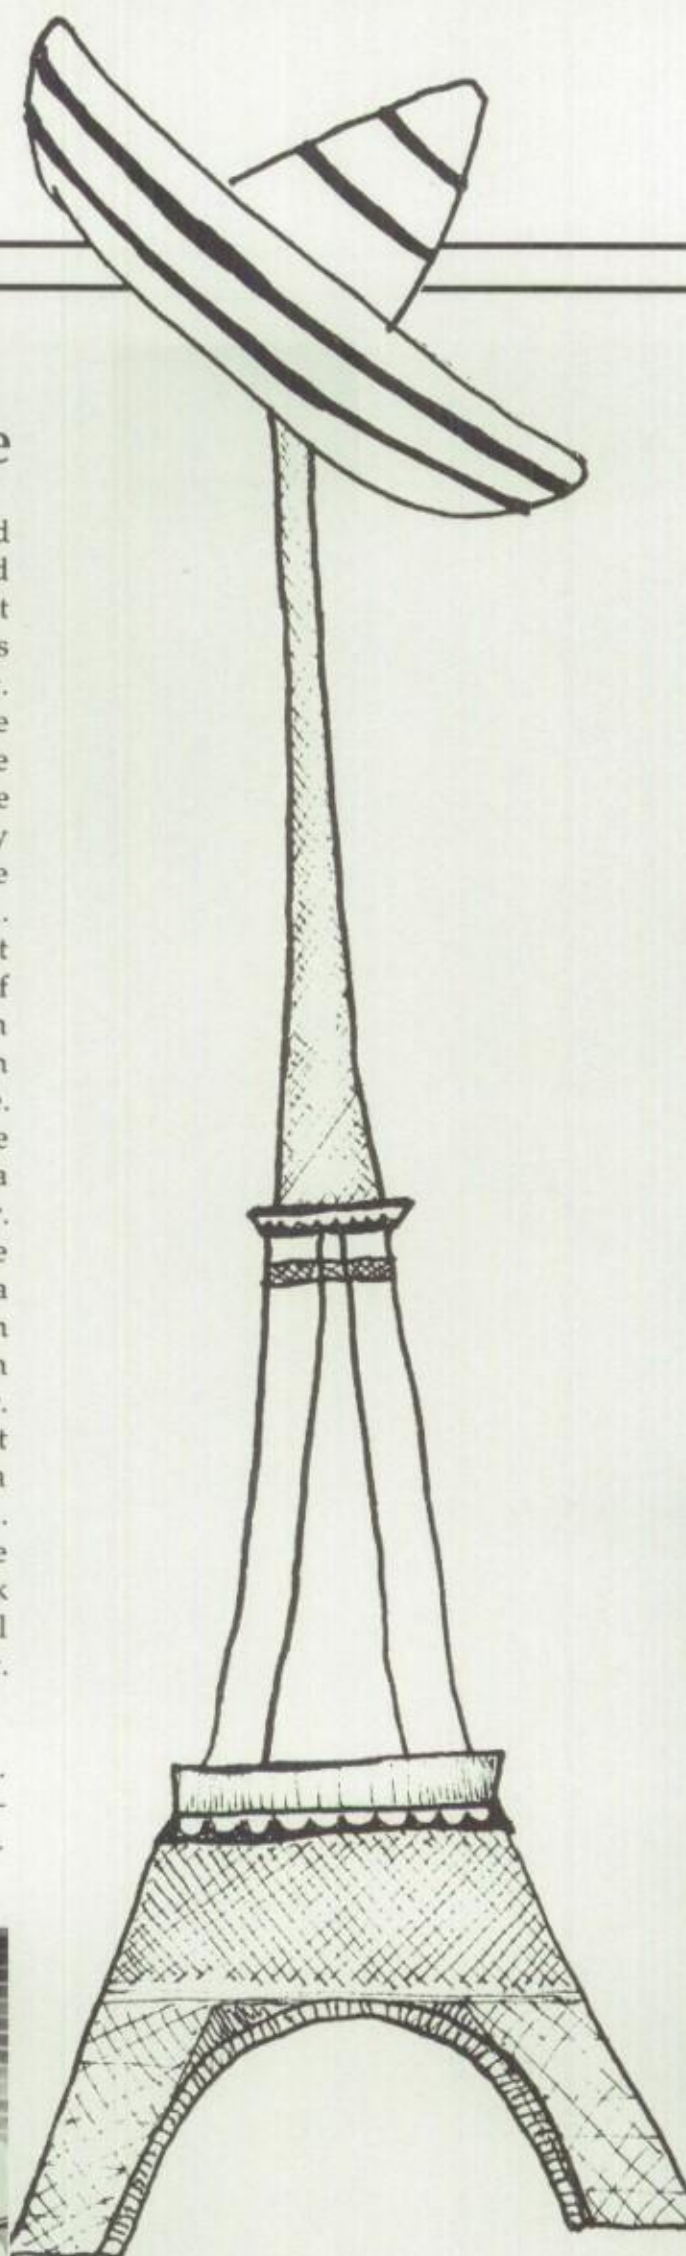

In celebration of Christmas, the French Club decorated a tree in the style of France and the Spanish Club participated in a progressive dinner.

The officers of the Spanish Club attended a convention of The Pan American Student Forum of Texas in San Antonio. As a member of P.A.S.F., the club donated money to charities in Latin America. Concentrated areas of study included an indepth research on Ecuador during the spring semester.

French students and club members attended competition at various levels throughout the metroplex. Topics for competition included literary and oral work.

Both groups finished an outstanding year with an end of the year party. The members of the French Club took a relaxed look back at the year, while the Spanish Club held its traditional banquet.

Clubs Stay Busy, Have Fun

Work to Help Others, Also

Sponsoring three families at Christmas, taking part in the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, and selling cookbooks were but a few of the projects the 200 member Future Homemakers of America club undertook. To start this busy year off, FHA members took part in morning donut parties, monthly meetings, and even spent a day at a Dude Ranch in Justin. In the spring they were able to send representatives to area and state meetings where they received leadership training as well as a chance to partake in workshops. The Rodeo Club was also active. They practiced at various arenas and met every other Wednesday night. Members were able to choose to enter such events as shoot dogging, bull riding, and barrel racing.

SPARK (Smith Peer Advisors Reaching Kids) was a group of students who functioned as an extension of the counseling department. During the first nine weeks of the semester, students learned listening and communicating skills. These skills were taught through games of power ball, wagonwheel, continuums, and also such activities as a role-reversal date, turning points, and group discussion. These communication skills were put to use in the second nine weeks when students were able to work with kids in local elementary and Jr. Highs. The semester was highlighted by a retreat to Meridian, Texas.

Woods and Water, Key Club, FCA

Clubs Stay Active Throughout Year

Braving the wilds and the antics of their sponsors, Woods and Water members managed to make this year a success. White water canoeing and camping highlighted the season's events, as members discovered that there was more to Mother Nature than just butter.

Undaunted by flood conditions and semi-gale force winds, the Woods and Water float, which depicted a kayak appropriately overcome by a wave, won first place in its division. All 52 members of the club worked diligently to make their float a success.

Key Clubbers learned to incorporate fun into their work as they performed service projects for the community. Each meeting included a game or meal, along with planning or enacting a local project.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization which encourages athletes to incorporate their Christian interests into sports. Special events were held throughout the year and often included hayrides or cookouts.

Dear Scott:

Congratulations on your graduation. Always remember who you belong to and what your purpose in life is. Hold before you Paul's confession to the Philippians (3:12) "I don't mean to say I am perfect. I haven't learned all I should even yet, but I keep working toward that day when I will finally be all that Christ saved me for and wants me to be." My prayer is that God will richly bless your life.

Love,
MOM

She grows up much too fast,
Leaves legacies of pigtails,
freckles and dolls,
Becomes a woman all too soon, But she will always be her parents' "little girl"
With pride for all you've been, With joy for all you are And love . . . for always

The Bones Will Never Go Down

It was the last semester in the days of '81.
Which will be known as the days of the bones.
A group of guys named Ji, Nut, Thur, and Bone,
Got together to let something be known.
It was their senior year and they planned not to waste it.
So they decided to do something about it.
They had their fun in '81 and in '82,
But since it went by so very fast, they made a group to last and last.
Because the Bones will never let another year pass,
Without a group of guys to lead the Senior class,
The Bones of '82 name:

Jim Nevins as Jimbone
Rodney Hare as Blackbone
Mike McGregor as McBone
Rick Higgins as Trick Bone
as the Bones of '83

Ivan Toricco and Pam Poarch brush up on their skating skills at the Senior Skate. (R. Jones)

Love From THE BERRY CLAN

*You're special to us — Yes, you are!
You're the brightest of stars In our heaven by far.*

*We realized it early, When God gave us you —
A unique individual He was entrusting us to
...*

"Angie"

*To nurture, encourage, and install within you —
A desire to fulfill his purpose so true.*

*God gave you a "spark," and a willingness too.
Yes, there's a demand for individuals like you.*

*Angie, we're thankful to God for placing in you
A deep love for your friends, and their well-being too.*

*He gave you a voice, and an artistic "flair"
And he said, "Angie, use them — Be one to dare!"*

*Talents are made to be used, don't you see?
God didn't plan on complacency.*

*Don't let them sit idle — or he'll take them away.
Make the most of them, you'll be proud some day!*

*Now, just go out there when you graduate —
And make the world one you'll appreciate!*

*So, Angie, to you we say, "Happy Graduation Day!"
Cause Dad, L'Jon, and I love you!*

To My Best Friend

This is not just a token of congratulations;
It is a symbol of my love.
Although I am usually good with words,
I cannot seem to explain my feelings.
I suppose they are much deeper than could ever be said.
I know it took us a long time to become real friends,

But once we did, no one could tear our friendship apart.
I feel a closeness to you that I have never felt before.
I think maybe it was there all along,
I hope that you've known that I Love You.
If not, please believe it now.
You are no longer just a brother, you are my best friend.
So I dedicate this to you as a friend not as a sister.
It's true that fate chooses your brother,
So I feel very lucky that GOD chose you to be my brother.

People like you are rare.
This is your time Randy.
Take the world into your hands.
Throw away the tears, pain, and fears.
Hold on tightly to the happiness and fun.
And remember your family,
For we will always be there to support you should you fall.

I Love You, TAMMIE JO

P.S.

The "World" can be yours! Go for it all! But, most important — Be Happy.

JOHN WILSON

There's a special providence in the fall of a sparrow.
If it be now, 'tis not to come;
if it be not to come, it will be now;
if it be not now, yet it will come:
the readiness is all.

Wm. Shakespeare

If

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too:
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or, being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too
wise;
If you can dream — and not make dreams your master;
If you can think — and not make thoughts you aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same:
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build'em up with worn-out tools;
If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings,
And never breathe a word about your loss:
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings — nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much:
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And — which is more — you'll be a man, my son!

Rudyard Kipling

Reaching for the Top

The Summit's in Sight

As the year came to a close, I found it difficult to write a closing for the yearbook. I tried to think of all the events that had happened in the last few months, but the feelings I had towards the ending of another year kept coming to mind.

The onset of activities and preparing to leave overwhelmed most with its speediness. Powder Puff, spring sports, and the banquets started in early February. The seniors seemed to be undefeatable as they plowed over the juniors in Powder Puff. Although most of the sports made some progress, baseball was exceptional. At times, we wondered if maybe the season would last into the summer with state competition. But in the final game of district play, we were defeated by Plano.

When I started thinking of all the things that had happened, my emotions soared. I thought of all the people I'd known throughout the last four years: the people who listened to me, the people who influenced my life, and the people who I didn't know but always said "Hi!" Then, I thought about leaving. Some people will move, some will find new friends and seniors will go to work or college. Each year we will set new goals and strive to do our very best to REACH FOR THE TOP.

Seniors anxiously await their turn to walk across the stage and fulfill a 12 year goal. (R. Jones)

ALLISON BOX and STEVE BLOOM assist KELLIE CARROLL in the NHS induction. (J. Sigmon)

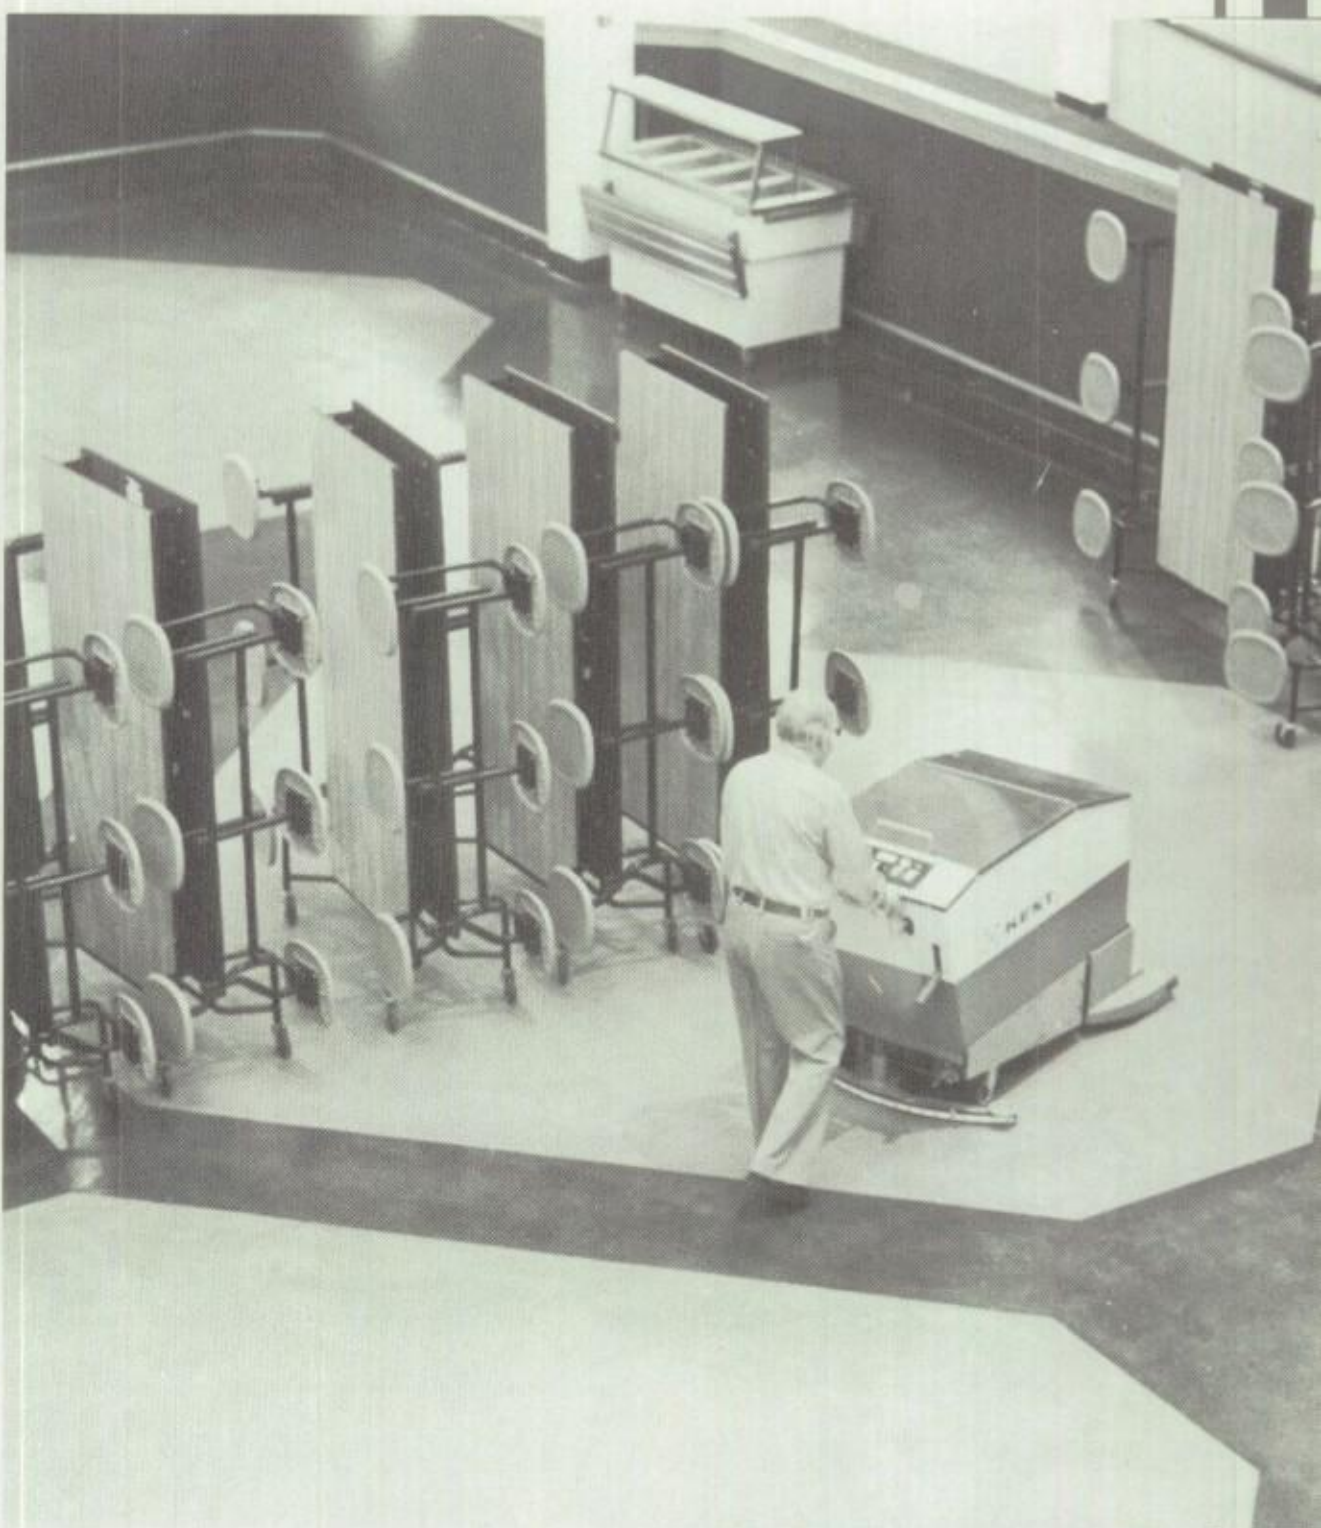

MIKE MOTHERSHED attempts to throw an opponent out at first base. (J. Sigmon)

DEBRA GRISHAM performs a dance in the navy of the Fantastic Finale. (K. Johnston)

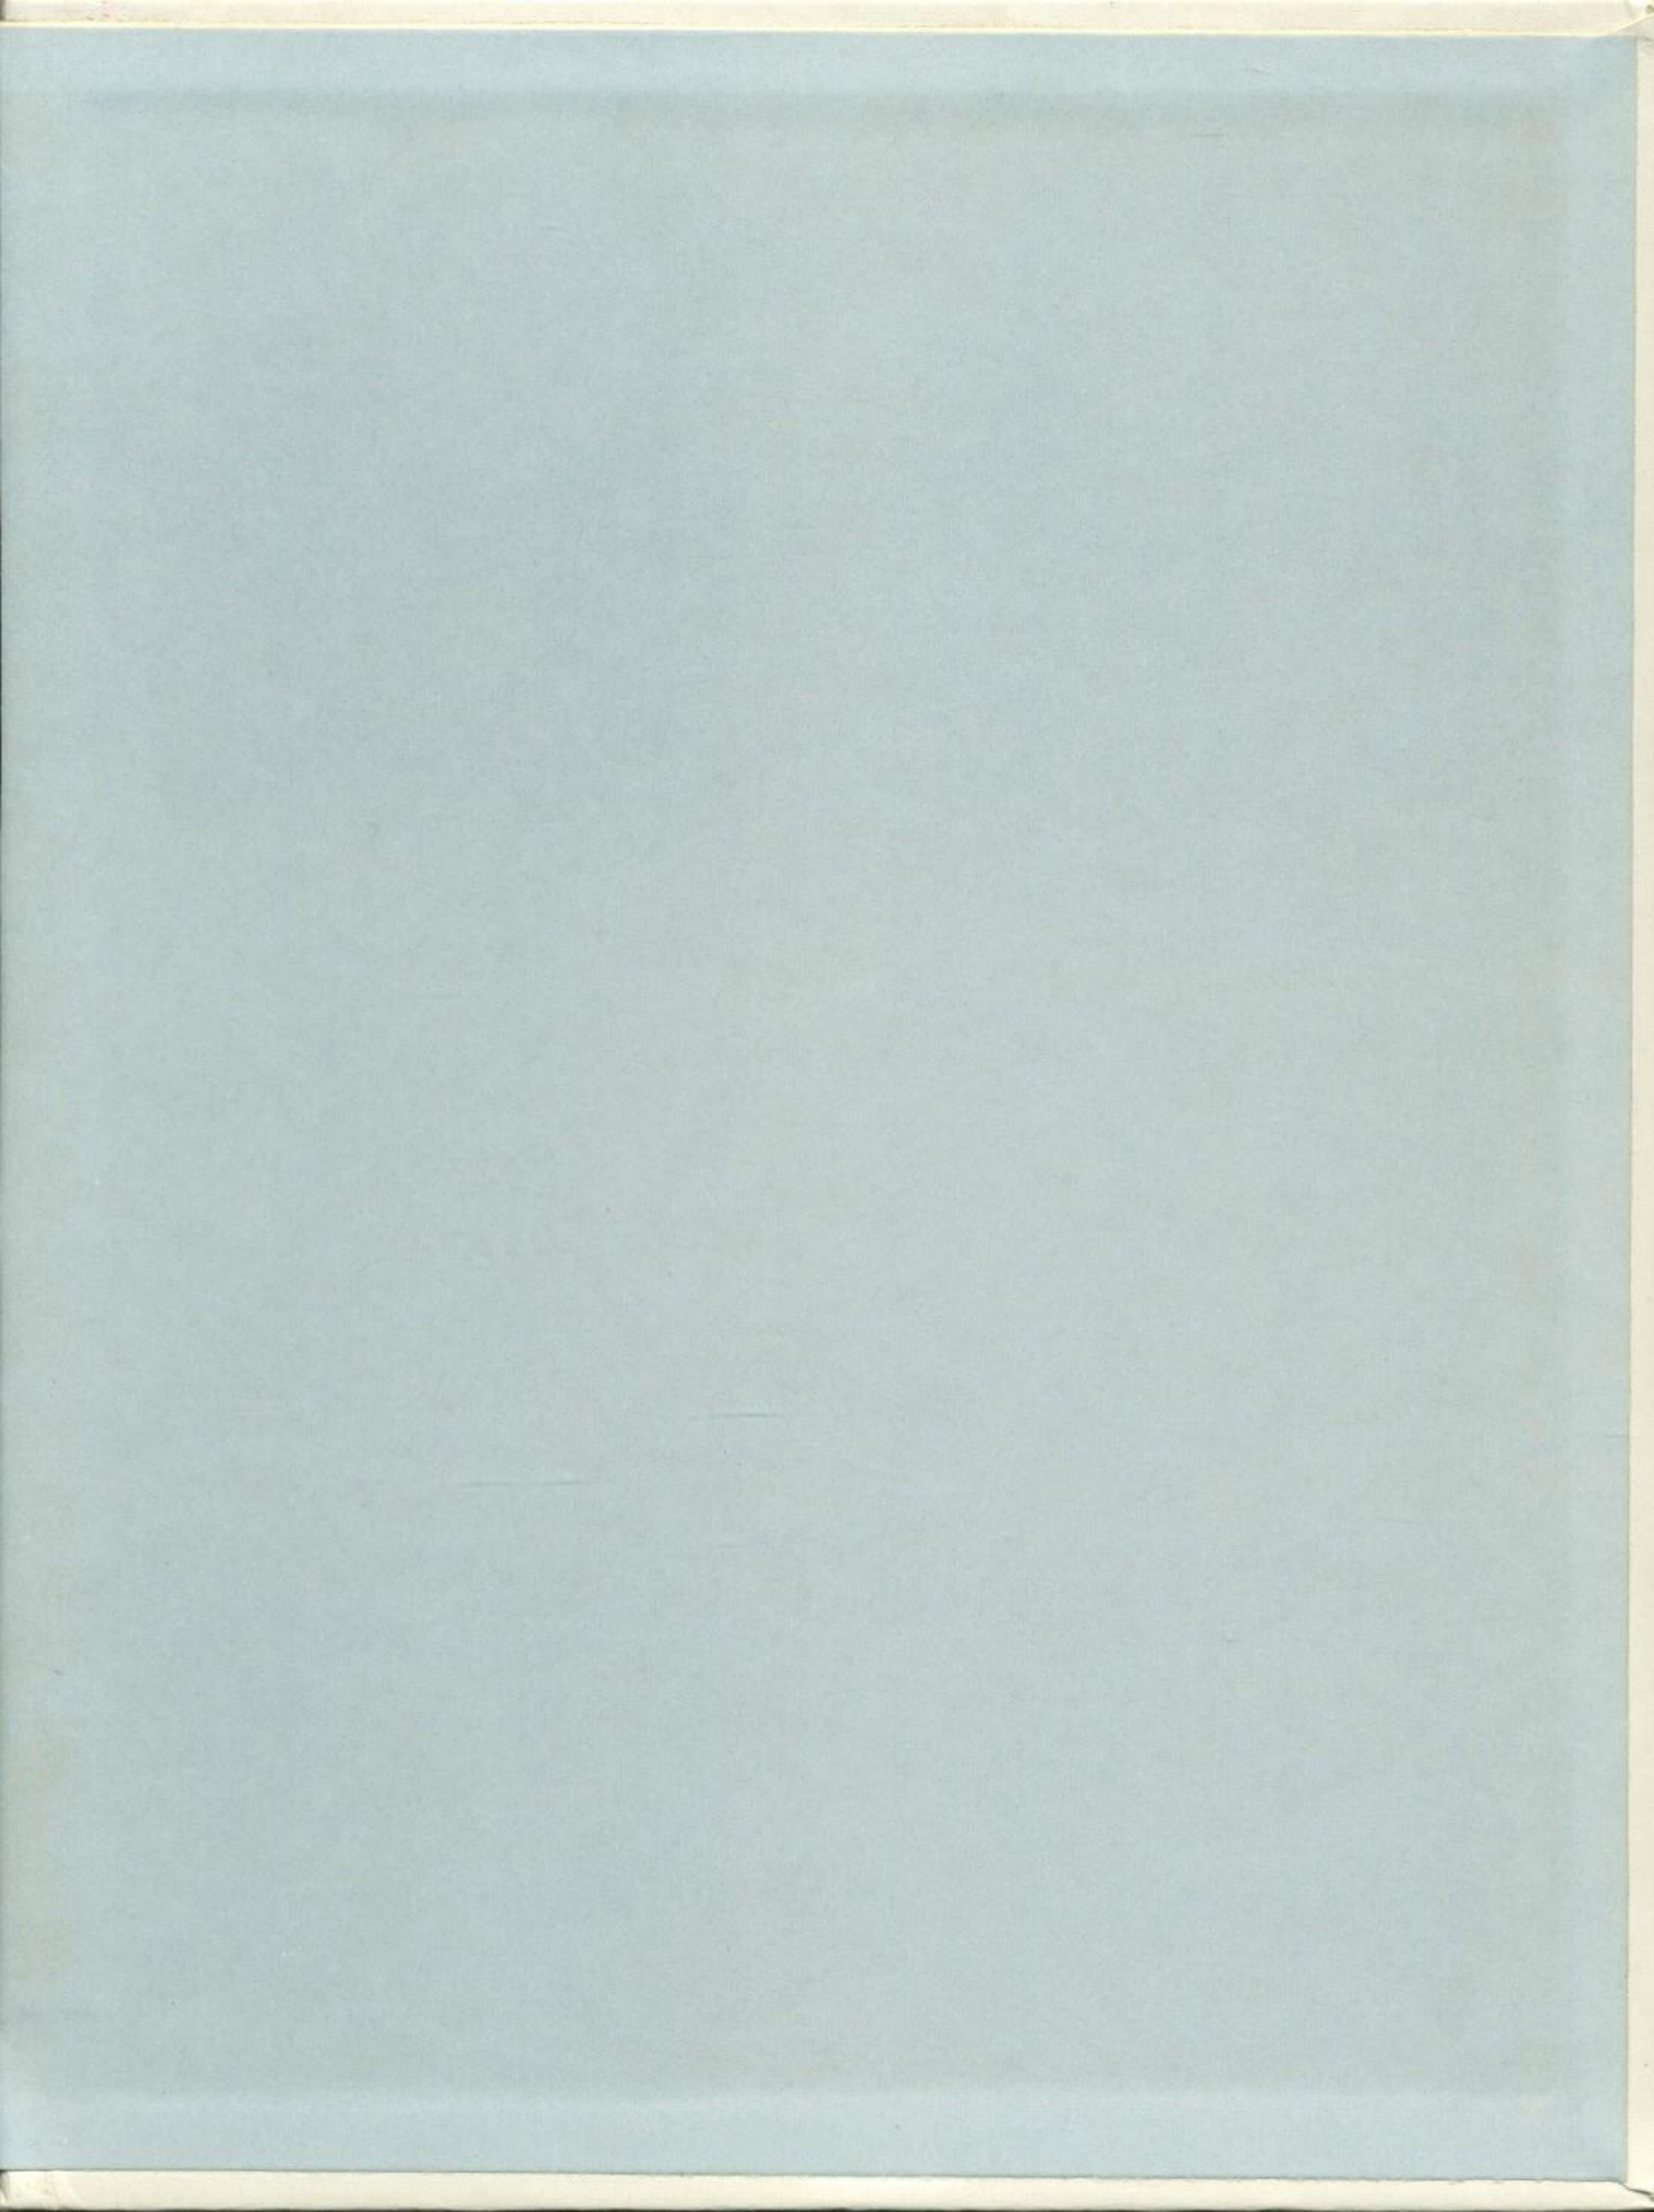

MIKE BASS, the cowardly lion, tries to battle off the wicked witch of the west in a Spanish play. (J. Sigmon)

Mr. Moyer cleans up after the last lunch of a long school year. (J. Sigmon)

The junior drill team tries to imitate the Troyanns at the Powder Puff pep rally. (K. Johnston)

Mandy,

I'm sure you'll go on to use all that Latin knowledge in some way! Good luck if you plan to take another year!

Julia Sewell

Mandy,

It was nice getting to know you this year. Good luck as a senior next year!

Chris Hearty

Mandy
It's been another year and I still enjoy your company and your friendship. I'll see you next year and I know you will have a great time because we'll be SENIORS.

Love ya

P.S. Stay sweet!! Virginia

Comer

Go Mandy!
I hope you have gotten something from Latin - I mean you will do well in your future pursuits. Come by to visit C Foster Latin, etc.

Mandy,
Boy am I sorry I let you talk me into taking Latin. It was fun for a while but I got lost second semester. Good luck as a senior
Scott Stringer

Mandy,
Well the year is done. This is the last time my feet will cross the threshold of this school as a student. I have enjoyed our talks.
Good Reading,
Jim
Since

Dear Mandy,
I have really enjoyed being your friend. You are one of the sweetest people
I know and I'm glad that we had world history together.
We have been friends for a long time and I hope that that friendship will continue all the way until graduation.

P.S. Good Luck with your braces!!

SR. 83!!

Your friend,

Craig Chester

Mandy -

I am only a semi-
half-partial-incomplete-
Latin scholar. Since
I will be in Indy for next year, I will be asking for your charts,
etc. Have a purple
summer!

Andy
MS Kemmer

P.S. Purple means
"good" in Bavarian.

MANDY,

THANKS FOR CONSIDERING ME A STRANGE
LATIN PERSON (JUST KIDDING). I HAVEN'T REALLY KNOWN YOU, BUT YOU REALLY ARE A NEAT PERSON. KEEP GOING AND HAVE A NICE SUMMER.

Jeff the Lab

P.S. HOPE TO SEE YOU NEXT YEAR.

Mandy,

I am glad I got to know you in Physics even though it was only one semester. Take care and see you next fall. Jeff the Lab

Mandy,
 Well, we survived
 Boot Camp & Sgt. Rice.
 What a miracle. Only one more year. Take a very nice person. Good luck always in church & life.

Jay
 O'Heenwood

Dearest Mandy,
 I've enjoyed being in your class and
 I hope we friends next year too. Have a good summer and
 be cool.

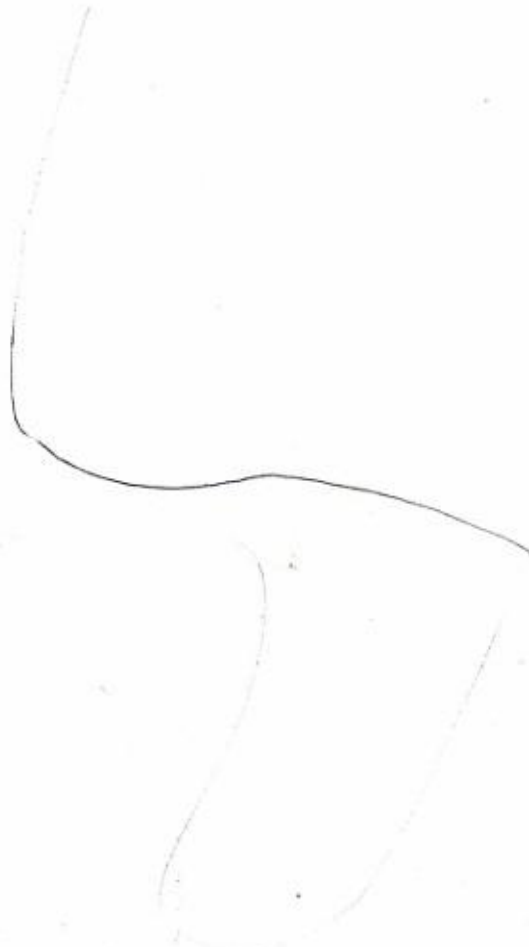

Best Wishes,
 Howard Campbell

and see you next year!!
 I hope you have a great summer. Know a good spot for your summer vacation? I know it's a bit far but it's a nice place to go. Hope you can make it.

Dear Mandy
To a nice friend
Whom I haven't know
Long

Good Luck
With the Future

Doug Kelley

I only know you think my sister but it was fun
during lunch
take good care of yourself
Love
D. J. O'Connell
